CHALLENGE TAFT ALLIES TO A TEST VOTE IN CHICAGO

Roosevelt Men Offer to Submit Presidential Preference at April Primary.

JUDGE OWENS WOULD AID

Grants Permission to Two Districts and Says Whole City Could Be Included.

DEWEY AWAITS FORGAN REPLY

The Illinois Roosevelt committee yesterday challenged the Chicago Taft club to submit the names of Theodore Roosevelt and President Taft to a preferential primary April 9, and to abide by the decision of the Republican voters of Chicago as to the man wanted for the presidential nomination.

Following a statement of County Judge Owens that such a primary could be held and that he would use his office and the election machinery to carry it out if requested, Col. Chauncey Dewey, chairman of the Roosevelt committee, sent a letter to David R. Forgan last night asking him on behalf of the Taft club to submit the matter to the voters along with the regular county and state primary to be held April 9.

Mr. Forgan refused to make any statement until he had received Mr. Dewey's letter, but added that when it was received he would place it before the executive committee of the Taft club at once.

Text of Dewey Letter.

The letter of Col. Dewey, which was sent from the Roosevelt headquarters in the evening, reads as follows:

"David R. Forgan, Chairman Taft Committee:

"As chairman of the Illinois Roosevelt committee and on behalf of that committee, I ask you and the Chicago Taft committee to join with me in formulating and carrying out some plan on April 9, the date of the primaries, by which an expression of the wishes of the Republican voters of Chicago may be had with respect to the next Republican candidate for president.

"You will agree with me that if a candidate for president is named in convention who is the choice of the voters of the party, the next presidential contest will be more than half won at the outset. On the other hand, if a candidate be forced upon the party against the wishes and desires of the voters it will be difficult, if not impossible, to elect that candidate.

"I take it that you and your associates place the welfare of the Republican party above the personal ambitions of any member of the party. If the candidate of the Republican party expects the support of the party in November he ought to be more than willing to have the electors express themselves on his candidacy on primary day.

Election Officials Offer Aid.

"County Judge Owens recently gave out an interview to the effect that it would be possible to get an expression of preference with regard to presidential candidates on primary day. The election officers, we are advised, are willing to furnish ballot boxes and necessary equipment and to safeguard the preferential primary in a manner to make it secret and secure.

"The only expense upon those requesting the primary is that of printing the ballots. I have no doubt that if your committee will join in this matter with the committee of which I am chairman an opportunity can be given to the Republican voters to express their preference as to who the next Republican candidate should be.

"The Roosevelt committee is not only willing to enter into an arrangement by a popular vote at the primaries, but I willingly pledge that committee at this time to abide by the result of such a popular vote if it shall be had. It would, of course, be expected of your committee to make a similar pledge. Will you kindly favor me with an early reply?"

Judge Owens Ready to Act.

Judge Owens already had given permission to the Third and Twenty-fifth wards to hold a presidential primary, and last night said there was no reason why the matter could not be submitted to the entire city or county.

"If requested by the Roosevelt and Taft men I am willing to give the aid of the county election machinery to see that a fair and correct primary is held," said Judge Owens. "I will allow the Taft and Roosevelt men to place their ballots in the regular polling places and will instruct the clerks and judges to see that the votes are cast in a legitimate and legal manner.

"Of course, the county cannot stand the expense, but if the Taft and Roosevelt men are willing to stand the slight expense of printing the tickets there is no reason why an honest expression of opinion cannot be obtained from the people of Chicago. I have given permission to two wards to hold such a primary and it might as well be extended to the entire city."

22 to 3 for Roosevelt.

The claims of Congressman William McKinley, chairman of the Republican congressional committee, and who is to handle the Taft campaign, that his district, the Nineteenth Illinois, was solid for Taft were combated during the day by the Roosevelt leaders. A poll of the precinct committeemen of Champaign county has brought replies from 25, 22 of which are favorable to Roosevelt and but 3 for Taft.

Roosevelt will have the support of a large majority of the Methodist ministers of the country if the straw ballot taken by seventy of their number is an indication.

At a dinner of the alumni association of the Garrett Biblical institute in the grillroom of Marshall Field's the vote resulted as follows: Roosevelt, 22; Taft, 14; Wilson, 9; La Follette, 9; Chafin (Prohibition), 5; Bryan, 3. There were seventy-three at the dinner, most of them pastors in Chicago and nearby cities, and seventy votes were cast.

BANKS JOIN FIGHT ON LOAN SHARKS; REFUSE ACCOUNTS

Central Trust and Northern Trust Companies Ask C. Frank Taylor to Withdraw Deposits.

HE POSES AS AN "INVESTOR"

Holds Broker's License; Guarantees 6 Per Cent; Says "Churchgoers" Furnish Capital for Business.

U. S. HITS BLOW AT PRACTICE

Chicago's financial institutions are awakening to the undesirability of transacting business with loan sharks. Officials of two banks—the Central Trust Company of Illinois and the Northern Trust company—have seen the light through the campaign being conducted by The Tribune anti-loan shark bureau, and invited C. Frank Taylor, room 312 Roanoke building, 9 South La Salle street, to withdraw his account. He did so, and is now issuing checks on the Fort Dearborn National bank.

Taylor said yesterday that he gave a full and complete explanation of his business affairs and methods to the officials of the Fort Dearborn institution when he made his first deposit there the other day. In the neighborhood where Taylor resides, 917 Wilson avenue, it is generally believed that he is a real estate broker and promoter. But he is the same Taylor who years ago was known in South Chicago business circles as Charles F. Taylor. He had been associated with Cornelius Flood, who is now in the penitentiary.

Makes $40,000 in Two Years.

Taylor is No. 63 in the official list of loan sharks. He admits having practically nothing two years ago, when he became a loan shark, but today is possessed of about $40,000 and freely acknowledges to an income of "over $15,000 per year." He said that he would soon quit the salary loan business because of its small scope and confine his system of piling up wealth to loaning business men "sums of $1,000 and upwards."

With a former partner in a tobacco plantation scheme Taylor was indicted twenty-seven times in a Texas court in 1905, was extradited from Chicago by federal officers, and, after some time spent in prison, procured his release on habeas corpus proceedings and enjoined the men who speculated and lost at his suggestion from having him further indicted.

Taylor Has Broker's License.

Taylor is more or less of a genius and has the business methods of his fellow sharks beaten to a pulp. He is the only shark known to boast a broker's license—a permit entitling him to do a general brokerage business at a cost of $25 per year. He may do a pawnbrokerage business with impunity, and he may do several other kinds of business, and claim protection. He attempts to evade the charge of usury by saying he accepts only the lawful rate of interest and is entitled to the general usury fee by claiming it as brokerage for procuring the loan. But the victim cannot see any difference.

"I approve of The Tribune's campaign against loan sharks," he said to a reporter yesterday. "It will bring the business down to definite lines. I don't create conditions; I relieve them."

"Then you admit being a loan shark?" interposed the reporter.

Calls Doctor Worse "Shark."

"Yes," he replied, "but we ain't the worst loan sharks. Say, let me call your attention to a physician in a prominent north side hospital. [He named the institution.] Yes, you are after sharks. Why don't you write that doctor up?

"Two weeks ago a poor devil came to me in tears. He had sent his wife to the hospital for an operation—it was a case of life or death, mind you—and at the last minute that brutal physician told the poor husband that he would trust him all right enough, but $50 would be needed for the assistant surgeon before an incision could be made. Why, that poor husband was frantic when he rushed into my office and got the $50, and tears streamed down his cheeks as he grabbed the phone and told the chief surgeon he would be back in an hour with the money. The husband was here and made his second payment today, and he said he didn't know what The Tribune meant by roasting men who were willing to grant aid right off the bat like that."

10 Per Cent a Month.

"How much will the $50 cost him?" inquired the cold-blooded reporter.

"Sixty dollars if he pays back in two months—the regular fee of 10 per cent per month," replied the shark with more or less perplexity over the reporter's lack of sympathy. "How long are you people going to keep up this campaign?"

"Until every shark is driven out of business. We are going to let the public know the caliber of these 'philanthropists.'"

"The Tribune was pretty hard on me before. I lost $55,000 in that tobacco enterprise, and was indicted, extradited, and sent to prison through the persecution of the tobacco trust. But I beat them. I personally lost all I had. Is The Tribune going to clamp its foot down on me and prevent me from earning a living?" pleaded Taylor.

"We have complaints against you," said the reporter.

"All right, then; let it be known that anybody dealing with me who cares to break his or her word or contract can square up by the mere tender of the principal. I won't even ask for the legal rate of interest. I want to do business with fullfledged men only.

"Now there are lots of good people investing their money with brokers like me. I guarantee these investors their principal and

BELIEVE MASON BACK IN CHICAGO

Missing North Side Financier Thought to Have Returned to City Yesterday; Last Seen in Buffalo.

MAY BE WITH FRIENDS.

Depositors Make Appeal to Federal Court for Receivership; Only $400 in Cash Found by Investigators.

William A. Mason, the Wilson avenue banker who disappeared last Thursday, is said to have returned to Chicago at noon yesterday. He is supposed to have gone into hiding while awaiting the advice of trusted friends. His father-in-law, J. R. Davidson, 4230 North Winchester avenue, denied he knew the whereabouts of the banker.

None of the angry depositors, who charge that $29,800 of the bank's funds is missing, knew of the reported return. During the afternoon they induced Federal Judge George A. Carpenter to name the Central Trust company receiver to untangle the institution's affairs.

Says He Started for Chicago.

Following the receipt of a dispatch purporting to come from Mason and announcing that he was in Buffalo settling up an estate, unaware of the suspicions resting upon him, the banker was traced during the day to Erie, Pa.

At night telegrams from Buffalo brought the information that Mason had departed for Chicago. Mrs. John C. Pierson, living on Elmwood avenue in Buffalo, said Mason spent Saturday night and Sunday at her residence, but boarded a train Sunday night bound for Chicago. The train, she said, was due to reach this city at noon yesterday. Mrs. Pierson is the widow of a friend of Mason's.

Mrs. Pierson said Mason did not leave with her any statement to be made public, and she declined to quote him in regard to any assertions he may have made to her regarding the condition of his bank and his departure from Chicago.

May Be Hiding with Friends.

After the receipt in Chicago of the information given by Mrs. Pierson—which was the first authentic news regarding Mason's whereabouts—speculation began as to where the banker first might go upon his return. It was said that perhaps he had gone to the home of north side friends.

Previously the Chicago detective bureau had received a telegram from the Erie authorities stating that Mason was in the Pennsylvania town and asking if he was wanted. Capt. Halpin answered that no formal charges yet have been placed against Mason, but he asked the Erie police to keep Mason under surveillance. Later information from Buffalo, however, indicated that Mason had not been in Erie, Pa.

Find Only $400 in Cash.

The petition upon which the receiver was appointed was signed by Oscar R. Smith, C. A. Larson, and B. B. Herbert. Two expert accountants, John B. Cunningham and R. C. Goldbeck, began an audit of the books in the afternoon. They were assisted by F. W. Fahlenstein, the cashier. By dinner time they had found about $400 in cash and negotiable papers to the value of $1,000. They could find no trace of the $2,300, representing the receipts of the bank for a few days prior to Thursday. It is believed they will determine today whether Mason has been guilty of embezzlement.

Depositors held a meeting in the evening in Library hall, Montrose boulevard and Hermitage avenue. There were about 150 serious faced pass book owners present. They heard the report of the committee of five which made a perfunctory investigation. This committee could not locate $29,800 of assets, but did not accuse Mason of making away with the amount. In fact, two members still place full confidence in the young financier.

Depositors' Feelings Differ.

B. B. Herbert, chairman of the meeting, said he was never so surprised as when he heard Mason was missing.

"I haven't any ill feeling toward the young man. If he made a mistake I think he should have stayed and seen it through. We don't know where he is."

Although the depositors did not express their personal feelings at the meeting, after adjournment they gathered in groups and discussed their situations.

Some of them denounced Mason. Women spoke harshly of him. Many men said they had faith in the banker and believe he will explain everything. Many of the depositors were bitter. This is not a new experience to a large number of them. They were caught in the failure about three years ago of the Ravenswood Exchange bank, which occupied the site of the Mason institution. Several men asserted that this is twice they have lost their savings. There were a few business men, a dozen women, and a couple of children at the meeting, but the great majority of the depositors are men on salaries.

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.

The Chicago Reduction company is strenuously working for a five year renewal of its contract with the city of Chicago. This company receives all garbage delivered by the city to its plant at Thirty-ninth and Iron streets and disposes of it by the reduction process. For this the city pays the company $47,500 a year.

The council finance committee is seriously considering the requested renewal without asking other contractors for bids. The Indiana Reduction company has informally offered to take all the garbage free for ten years and at the end of that period turn over a reduction plant to the city worth $500,000. A ten year contract is prohibited by statute, but that offer indicates in part the value of the contract.

A comparison of the Chicago Reduction company with other private concerns is impossible because their figures are not available. There are only a few municipal plants in this country, of which Cleveland is probably the best. The official figures of that plant for 1911 have been obtained.

Cleveland Shows Big Profit.

These show that Cleveland sold the byproducts of its 93,123,733 pounds of garbage last year for $189,894.21. That is a price per ton of $4.08. Of that amount per ton $2.10 is classed by Cleveland officials as profit.

The city of Chicago delivered 126,301 tons tons of garbage last year to the Chicago Reduction company. If as fortunate in its sales as Cleveland, the Chicago corporation should have had a gross income last year of $515,000; and if as economically operated the Chicago plant should have made a profit of more than $300,000.

Yet the city of Chicago is paying the Chicago Reduction company $47,500 a year to accept the garbage after it has been collected and hauled to the company's plant at the expense of the taxpayers.

Last year Chicago paid in real money about 35 cents a ton to have its garbage reduced to grease and fertilizer and then received no profits from these products.

Instead of an expense Cleveland made a profit of $2.10 a ton on its garbage.

Loss in 1910 Greater.

In 1910 the difference between the two cities was even greater. Chicago's expense per ton of garbage was 47 cents, while Cleveland's profit was $2.36.

Incidentally the leading advocate of municipal ownership in this country—the late Tom Johnson of Cleveland—once said that it costs 10 to 15 per cent more to operate a business by a municipality over the cost of operating the same business by private citizens. He explained that it was worth that price to keep the graft out of public affairs which he alleged public service corporations contributed. So it is probably fair to add 10 per cent to Cleveland's municipal figures in comparing that enterprize with Chicago's privately owned and operated plant.

Cleveland has thirty-six square miles of hilly territory where teaming would be slower and more laborious than on Chicago's flat surface. Yet Cleveland's municipal garbage plant came within $60,000 last year of paying the cost of both collecting and disposing of all garbage of that city. Even a better showing was made in 1910 when the total cost of collection and disposal was only $36,000 above the aggregate income of the reduction plant.

Chicago Hauls Are Long.

It is hardly to be expected that Chicago could equal that showing, because of the long hauls here. Superintendent of Streets Solon has not completed the task of ascertaining the cost of collection last year, but in 1910 the figure was $362,258, including boat hire. Add to this sum the $47,500 paid the Chicago Reduction company and the $409,758.67 represents the total cost of collecting and disposing of all garbage in which the city had a part.

On a unit basis, Cleveland in 1910 paid about 80 cents a ton for both the collection and disposition of its garbage, while Chicago paid for the same functions a trifle over $4 a ton.

Without detailed study by an expert on garbage of the conditions and restrictions regarding collection in both cities, figures relating to that subject can only be taken as indicative. On reduction costs, however, comparison of figures between the two municipalities is more than fair to Chicago.

Cleveland's Income Computed.

Cleveland's garbage in 1910 totaled 89,494,665 pounds, and in 1911 93,123,733 pounds,

GIRL KIDNAPED AT HOSPITAL DOOR

One Group of Relatives Objects to Proposed Operation on Orphan for Appendicitis.

RECOVERED BY DOCTOR.

Surgical Treatment Follows a Long, Forcible Detention, and the Patient May Get Well.

Miss Gertrude Clark of Highland Park finally was operated on for appendicitis yesterday at St. Francis hospital, Evanston. She is 19 years old, an orphan, and the pet of two jealous factions of brothers and sisters.

To prevent the operation Chicago and Kenosha brothers and sisters had kidnaped Miss Clark on Jan. 31 on the threshold of St. Francis hospital. Guy Clark, brother, and Mrs. Thomas Duffy, sister, both of Highland Park, had authorized Miss Clark's preparation for the operation. A sister, Theresa of Chicago, who came ostensibly to Highland Park to accompany Gertrude to the hospital, engineered the kidnaping.

The carriage was met in Evanston by two other sisters, Hattie of Chicago and Agnes of Kenosha, and a brother whose name has not been obtained. The ailing young woman was diverted to a train and taken involuntarily to Kenosha.

Finally Let Her Go.

Weak, nervous, distraught from the illness that has vexed her for three years, Miss Clark was kept at Kenosha for a week. In this time bitter communications passed between the jealous kin. It is understood Mr. Clark and Mrs. Duffy of Highland Park threatened proceedings for abduction. The girl became fretful with pain and discomfiture. She finally was permitted to return to Highland Park.

Dieting and other preparation for the operation were again directed by Dr. J. P. O'Neil of Highland park. Dr. O'Neil and his brother, Dr. William E. O'Neil of Evanston performed the operation in the afternoon. It was pronounced successful. However, the long delay, the excitement of the kidnaping, and the family strife and complications leave Miss Clark in dangerous condition. She was resting easy at midnight.

Doctor Intervenes.

Mrs. Duffy refused to talk at night. From authoritative sources it was learned that relief to the girl probably would not have been administered until too late, but for intervention by Dr. O'Neil. Miss Clark had called on the doctor three months ago in company with a neighbor in whom she had confided.

The Highland Park Clarks agreed on the operation; the other brothers and sisters of the girl demurred. Left an orphan at an early age, Miss Clark has been dependent on relatives, living a life of transfers from Chicago, to Highland Park, to Kenosha, and elsewhere in Wisconsin. Her education is being financed by the wealthier Highland Park kin. She is now enrolled in the Highland Park High school.

The Tribune's informant asserted he had been apprized of threats sent to Dr. O'Neil from Chicago and Kenosha warning him against performing the operation. Different suits for damages were predicted.

WAITER STOPS WOMAN SMOKING CIGARET IN AUDITORIUM HOTEL

Identity of Fashionably Dressed Person Who Amazed Dining Room Guests Not Disclosed.

Guests of the Auditorium hotel last night were amazed when a fashionably dressed middle aged woman calmly lighted a cigaret after finishing her dinner in the main dining room.

"Look there—a woman smoking a cigaret." was the whisper that went around the room, and soon every one was asking who the smoker was so unconscious of their scrutiny.

The staring at last attracted the attention of the smoker's husband, who had finished his dinner and was reading a paper. When the head waiter whispered the request that "the lady will please not smoke here" she took one puff, laid the cigaret on her plate, and with her husband left the room.

They reside at the hotel and their identity was not disclosed by the hotel management.

HOLD UP SUBPOSTAL STATION.

Robbers Loot Drug Store—Force Proprietor to Open Government Safe at Pistol Point—They Escape.

The drug store of Mauletta & Serritella, 960 West Harrison street, in which is subpostal station No. 129, was held up late last night by two armed robbers, who took $40 from the cash register and $135 from the safe. Most of the money taken from the safe belonged to the government and was received from the sale of stamps and postal money orders. Serritella pleaded that he was merely a clerk and did not know the combination. He was told by one of the robbers that they knew his name and they threatened him with death if he did not comply with their demand. He then opened the safe. The robbers escaped.

PAIR CONFESS FOUR ROBBERIES.

One Alleged Holdup Man Captured After Firing Upon Patrolman—Then He Implicates Another.

Two men under arrest yesterday are said to have confessed to Police Capt. James Madden to having robbed four saloons. The prisoners are Carl Bauman, 742 South State street, and William Wiefer, 1222 North Clark street.

Bauman was taken in custody after he had robbed the saloon of Arnold Wulff, 3401 North Clark street, the police say. The porter was locked in a room and $13.50 was stolen from the cash register. Bauman was pursued by Policeman Frank Mee and captured after he had fired four shots at the patrolman.

Wiefer was arrested in his room at 1222 North Clark street on information gained from Bauman. He was identified with Bauman by three saloonkeepers whose places were robbed. They are Hugo Flasch, 5631 North Clark street; Martin Dwyer, 6701 Stony Island avenue, and Thomas O'Brien, 2322 West Lake street.

HUNT SAYS MAYOR LIMITED SCOPE OF GAMBLING RAIDS

Writes to Harrison, Quoting Alleged Orders to Leave Certain Games Alone.

AGAIN REFUSES TO QUIT

Refers to "First Ward Friends" Who Expected Inspectors to Keep Hands Off.

TELLS OF TALK ON CITY POLICY

Police Capt. Nicholas Hunt wrote a letter yesterday afternoon to Mayor Harrison and charged that the mayor early last year gave explicit orders to the police inspectors to refrain from interfering with certain forms of gambling.

Capt. Hunt in the letter reiterated his refusal to stand trial before the civil service commission and said he would never resign. He said, too, that if he was discharged outright he would want to know just who "bounced" him.

The letter also makes the charge that "certain friends of the mayor in the First ward"—presumably meaning the aldermen—wanted the mayor's "hands off" orders to the inspectors obeyed to the letter.

Talk with the Inspectors.

Hunt, in his letter, says that one morning late in May or June, 1911, the mayor met the police inspectors in his office and that the following conversation ensued:

"MAYOR HARRISON—Good morning, boys."

"INSPECTORS—Good morning, your honor."

"MAYOR HARRISON—I have called you inspectors here—and I see that some of the inspectors are missing—so that I could personally explain the policy of my administration in reference to gambling. I don't object to card playing among friends, and I don't object to card playing in the backrooms of saloons; and I have no objection to card playing in rooms in hotels, nor to any card playing which is done under lock and key. In short, there is no objection to card playing, except where there is a capper or plugger on the outside. I don't intend to stop this sort of gambling and don't expect you men to, but of course you know, we cannot have it open or public.

"INSPECTORS—All right, your honor. We will see that your orders are obeyed."

Says He Obeyed to the Letter.

The captain says he obeyed the mayor's orders to the letter and should not be held responsible for loop gambling, which forms the chief basis of the charges of neglect of duty and inefficiency against Hunt. He says he caused 365 arrests for gambling downtown—all that should have been made in the light of the mayor's "gambling policy." He takes another shot at Harmon M. Campbell, chairman of the city civil service commission, charging the head of the merit board with entering into a conspiracy against him (Hunt).

"I simply seek to show the public and my friends that I have not been derelict in my duty as a police official," Capt. Hunt said last night in explanation of his letter. "The police inspectors received definite instructions as to the gambling policy of the city administration. The other police inspectors are as well aware of the facts concerning the administration attitude as I am.

"I won't stand trial and I won't leave the police department. It's up to the mayor. He can fire me, but before he does the public of Chicago is going to have the facts concerning this whole matter."

Hunt's Letter in Full.

Capt. Hunt's letter to the mayor follows:

"The Hon. Carter H. Harrison, mayor of Chicago, city hall, Chicago.—Honorable Sir:

"I have received your communication bearing date Feb. 10, 1912, and have carefully noted all of its contents, and in reply thereto I wish to say that I have been advised and am satisfied that under the law the civil service commission of the city of Chicago has not any jurisdiction over me as a captain of police of the city of Chicago, and that it also has not any jurisdiction to hear statements or evidence in reference to any charges which may be filed against me.

"Your statement that 'there is undoubted jurisdiction because of the fact that the present investigation of police affairs was undertaken by the civil service commission upon my direction as mayor of the city of Chicago' does not alter the situation either as to the law or the fact, because all of the jurisdiction which this commission has, is its by virtue of the statute creating it, and by virtue of such amendments to the civil service act as have been passed since its adoption, and of course, you as a lawyer, know that none of these statutes vested any jurisdiction in that commission over a person known as a holdover employé, and that being so your action and your direction to that commission to undertake this so-called investigation could not vest any jurisdiction in that commission over me or over my case.

No Authority to Try Him.

"In your letter you make the statement that at the time this investigation was ordered police conditions were such that it was necessary that a thorough overhauling of the department should be had, and this you say would apply to the civil service men as well as to the holdovers. To this I say that while this may or may not be true, that fact, if such it be, could not and did not confer jurisdiction upon the civil service commission to hear any case against me.

"Again quoting from your letter, you say the following: 'I appreciate thoroughly the work you have done in bringing to arrest and conviction the so-called labor sluggers and also the work you have done in criminal cases. These, however, are not the matters under hearing by the civil service commission.' In reference to this I wish to say that I am well aware that these matters are not under investigation by the commission, and I do not consider this remarkable.

Conditions Deplorable.

"In order that it may not seem that I misunderstand or misapprehend your letter I use your exact language: 'It is equally certain that police conditions in the First district up to the time the civil service investigation was instituted, as far as gambling was concerned, were deplorable. All forms of gambling were being indulged in. This is not a matter of hearsay, but can be testified to by every man in the city of Chicago well posted in these affairs.'

"This is a remarkable statement, coming from the mayor of the city of Chicago, and more remarkable coming from your honor, who is the head of the police department of the city of Chicago, when circumstances of which you are fully aware are taken into consideration.

"You remember, no doubt, that at the institution of this so-called investigation your present chief of police, the Hon. John McWeeny, stated to this civil service commission that there was no open gambling in the city of Chicago, and certainly it cannot be questioned that he is a man well posted in these affairs; and others equally well posted might be named, but it would be a waste of space.

Gambling Couldn't Be Stopped.

"It is not necessary for me to attempt to prove to you, for you, better than any man in the city of Chicago, know from your experience that all gambling cannot be stopped, and an investigation of the records at police headquarters in the central division will show that during my term of office in that division 365 arrests were made for gambling.

"I maintain that these arrests are the only ones which were justified by the orders which I received from the chief of police and from your honor, as mayor of the city of Chicago, and as head of its police department.

"It has occurred to me from the tone and phraseology of your letter that you may have overlooked the orders which you individually issued to me as inspector of police in charge of the central division of the city of Chicago, and with this thought in mind I wish to call your attention to a certain day in the latter part of May or the first part of June, 1911, at which time, in company with three other inspectors of police, who are well known to you, I was in your office, and on that occasion, you, as mayor of the city of Chicago, and as head of the police department, issued the following orders to those inspectors of police as your specific direction in reference to gambling in the city of Chicago:

The Alleged Order.

"In order that there may be no misapprehension or misunderstanding, I will use your exact language:

"'MAYOR HARRISON—Good morning, boys.'

"'INSPECTORS—Good morning, your honor.'

"'MAYOR HARRISON—I have called you inspectors here and I see that some of the inspectors are missing, so that I could personally explain the policy of my administration in reference to gambling—I don't object to card playing among friends, and I don't object to card playing in the back rooms of saloons, and I have no objection to card playing in rooms in hotels, nor to any card playing which is done under lock and key; in short, there is no objection to card playing, except where there is a capper or plugger on the outside, I don't intend to stop this sort of gambling and don't expect you men to, but, of course, you know we cannot have it open or public.

May Have Overlooked It.

"It seems impossible that you should have overlooked this matter, but sometimes busy men do overlook some things and I thought that it would not do any harm to call your attention to it.

"Of course, when you issued this order you expected me, as inspector of police, in charge of the central division, to obey it and your friends, in the First ward and many others, certainly expected me to obey it and I have no doubt took advantage of the situation.

"I also have no doubt that many friends of these men did conduct card playing in the back rooms of saloons and in rooms in hotels and did conduct many other games under lock and key, but I considered that it was my orders not to break down the doors to these places or to station any policemen in front of them to arrest these friends after they had conducted their social games and if these friends went further than you contemplated, of course, your honor will realize that it was your mistake and not mine, in as much as I obeyed your orders.

"Your letter further states that 'It is my desire and intention that the police investigation by the civil service commission shall be of every member of the department regardless of his position or of what I may individually think of him. In this case the civil service commission in its investgaiton will act under my directon and as my agent.'

Question of Responsibility.

"And, referring to this statment, allow me to make the following remarks, that, assuming that you have been correctly quoted in the public press, you have stated that Capt. John Halpin, who during my term as inspector was one of the captains of the Central division, was head of the detective department and in charge of the criminal and detective department of my division, and that he therefore was not responsible for gambling in the Central division.

"This, of course, would remove any and all of the lieutenants, sergeants, and patrolmen (acting as detectives), who were then assigned to the detective bureau from any responsibility for gambling, as it necessarily follows that if the captain in charge is not responsible, certainly his men cannot be held responsible.

One O'Clock Ordinance.

"You have also stated that Capt. Gibbons was in charge of the traffic squad and in charge of patrolling the central division, and in charge of enforcement of the 1 o'clock closing ordinance, and that Capt. Gibbons was not in any way responsible for the suppression of gambling in the central division.

"This, of course, also makes each and all of the men under Capt. Gibbons not responsible for the suppression of gambling in the central division, and, as to Capt. Gibbons and his men, I agree that your honor is correct.

"Now, assuming the correctness of your honor's position, for the purpose of this letter, will your honor indicate wherein I, as inspector of police in charge of that division, could be held responsible for the suppression of gambling in the central division, when all of the men under me were not responsible, and will your honor also indicatee what men I had with which to suppress gambling, when every man in my command was directly under the command of Capt. Halpin and Capt. Gibbons, this has seemed absolutely inexplicable to me, but probably you have a solution at hand, and, if so, will you kindly indicate to me plainly what your solution is?

Says Order Is Illegal.

"You also say in your letter 'In this case the civil service commission, in its investigation, will act under my direction and as my agent, and I must insist upon your appearing before the commission to answer the charges made against you if you desire to remain a member of the police department.'

"Replying to this, I wish to say that it has always been, and is now, my belief that a good policeman, like a good soldier, always obeys legal orders, and this order, being an illegal order, you as mayor of the city of Chicago and as head of the police department of the city of Chicago, have no legal right to issue the same, and I, as a good policemen, wish now to say to you that I absolutely refuse to appear before the civil service commission of the city of Chicago, because they have absolutely no jurisdiction over me or over my case whatsoever.

Attack on Campbell.

"I further refuse to appear for reasons which I have heretofore made plain to you and because it is a useless waste of time to appear before that commission as at present constituted, for you very well know that Harmon M. Campbell, leading light and moving spirit of this so-called investigation and head of the civil service commission of the city of Chicago, is my bitter enemy; that he entered into a conspiracy to bribe me while head of the police of the central division of the city of Chicago, and in my judgment, were I to appear before this commission with Campbell at its head, I would exhibit grave indications of insanity, and not even my worst enemy will accuse me of mental irresponsibility.

"I wish further to inform you that I have absolutely no thought of resigning, that I have absolutely no thought of appearing before the civil service commission of the city of Chicago, and that I will not appear there, and that there is but one way to separate me from the police department of the city of Chicago, and that is for your honor to do so, and I wish further to inform you that I insist upon knowing who discharged me when it is done. Inasmuch as your honor gave to the press your letter of Feb. 10, 1912, before the time it was delivered to me, I have taken the liberty of doing the same thing in reference to this communication.

"Hoping that I have made myself clear in reference to my feelings on the matters indicated and suggested by your communication, I remain, yours respectfully,

NICHOLAS HUNT.

ROB FOUR PLACES; HAVE FEAST

Burglars Enjoy Themselves at Victims' Expense After They Enter Downtown Office Building.

A brace of burglars who believe in mixing business and pleasure—whose sang froid permits them to burgle, dine, smoke and finally play a friendly game of billiards all on the same job—visited the Wexford building at 339 South Wabash avenue on Saturday night.

The robbers first entered the offices of Sperry & Hutchinson on the fourth floor. Then they went to the rooms of the Pomeroy Surgical Appliance company. The scene of their next visit was the restaurant conducted by Miss M. A. Hely, where they cooked themselves a meal. From the restaurant they went to the Wabash billiard hall, where they helped themselves to some cigars and rolled the ivories around one of the tables for a while.

The robbers got two cheap watches and $100 from Sperry & Hutchinson's, six aprons from the restaurant and a box of cigars from the billiard hall.

HALPIN ORDERS CRUSADE ON SUSPECTED LOOP HOTELS.

Representatives of Grand Pacific, Wellington, Saratoga, and Grant Hostelries Among Forty Men Warned.

A program for the termination of violations of law by downtown hotels, large and small, is announced by Capt. John J. Halpin, chief of detectives. The announcement came yesterday in two directions. The men of the bureau were told to keep rigid watch on all suspected hotels and report violations immediately. In the captain's office at the time were forty men representing various loop hotels under suspicion, among them the Grand Pacific, Wellington, Saratoga, and Grant hotels.

"As for you," he continued, turning to the hotel men, "just remember that this order goes. My men will keep watch of every hotel lobby in town. If violations occur for which your clerks and house detectives are not altogether to blame my men will notify you and you can make the arrests quietly. If you own employés are to blame we will take you, too, and bring you into court on a charge of keeping a disorderly house.

"This order is final. The heyday of the shady hotel in the loop district is past."

It is only two weeks since, at the Chicago Hotel association dinner, Harry A. Wheeler, former president of the Association of Commerce, pleaded with the managers of the larger Chicago hotels to drive out this form of vice from Chicago. It remained for the city's detective bureau to make a more emphatic appeal.

'MAGICAL CARPET' FAILED TO WORK

'WATER SHOES' SPECIALTY

Alleged Victims Try to Walk on Lake; Hat Used to Make One "Disappear."

When George A. Pupausky, banker and "Grand Vizier of the Prince of Darkness," first set his foot on American soil some twelve years ago he made the remarkable discovery that there were as many if not more "suckers" in this land of the free as in his native heath. And what was quite as important he found that they had more money.

FABLE OF THE MAGIC CARPET.

Now there is, for instance, the case of Tony Nebelski of 2227 West Twenty-third street, and that of Frank Gutowski, 2514 Western avenue. Tony had relatives in Brazil, had heard much about that country, and he wanted to go there. Gutowski did not want to explore the southern hemisphere, but wished to return to his birthplace in Poland. Both consulted Pupausky for rates.

"Why take a steamer for these distant countries and spend weeks on the way when you can go there in twenty-four hours and return in the same length of time?" asked Pupausky. "Why not invest a few American kopecs in my magic carpet and ride on it."

The adroit vender found Nebelski had about $100, but that Gutowski had all of $300 in his belt. So the latter had to pay $260 for his piece of badly worn rug, while Nebelski secured his for $86.

"Now you don't want to sail out of Chicago on this carpet," Pupausky admonished his customers. "When you are ready to start dig up a canful of fishworms and buy a little silver bell. Go to the woods. Spread your carpet out and sit down in the center of it. Then place the worms all around the carpet and ring your bell. The jinns will then sweep the carpet up, but be careful that you don't get dizzy and fall."

Everybody in the neighborhood of Leavitt and Twenty-third streets remembers that Nebelski got as far as New Orleans on his way to Brazil, and no farther. Gutowski landed in New York by rail.

FABLE OF THE WATER SHOES.

Somewhere in Chicago there is a young Russian laborer who wanted to swim across Lake Michigan.

"Simple," asserted the Leavitt street magician. "I have here a pair of boots which look like ordinary footwear. But behold, they have extra thick soles. Now, in the soles of these boots are whale bladders inflated with magic wind. You can walk on water as well as on terra firma in these boots. They are yours for $30, but you must not use them for sixty days, as it takes that long for the magic to work."

The Russian waited for sixty days, carried out religiously all the rules demanded by Pupausky, then donned his boots one morning and strolled out into Lake Michigan. It was a cold winter day, but not cold enough to make the water firm under foot, so the man in the magic boots sank. He probably would have drowned if he had not been a good swimmer.

FABLE OF THE MAGIC HAT.

Alexander Melnik, 78 East Fifth avenue, Oswego, N. Y., bought a magic hat of Pupausky for $25. Now he swears he will never pay more than $1.25 for a headgear of any kind. Melnik bought a "sneak hat," to mke one disappear like the "invisible oil."

When the Oswego man received the magic hat he immediately put it on and started out for a stroll. Melnik did not meet any one who paid much attention to him till he came to a crossing. Then something struck him so forcibly that he was tossed several feet through the air and his hat blew off.

"I did not see you," remarked the driver as he bent over the injured man.

"I know you didn't," answered Melnik, groaning, for his left leg was broken and his body was all bruised.

"Here is your hat," said the driver.

WILL LINK COUNTY SEATS.

Project Proposed to Bring Communities Together.

Need of good roads in Illinois was emphasized and the establishment of a Lincoln memorial highway was urged by speakers at the Illinois and Interstate Good Roads convention at the Auditorium hotel yesterday.

"Illinois roads are the worst in the union," said Jens Jensen, the landscape artist, who spoke on the landscape features of the proposed memorial road connecting Lincoln's home at Springfield with Chicago, St. Louis and every county seat in the state.

"Congress recently appropriated $2,000,000 for the establishment of a Lincoln memorial and members of the state good roads association have been active in endeavoring to have the fund expended for the establishment of the memorial road."

KANSAS STILL IN ICE FLOE AFTER AN ALL DAY FIGHT.

Steamer Stuck Off Kenosha—Gets Loose for a While, Only to Be Encompassed Again.

An all day fight in the ice floes off Kenosha, Wis., yesterday did not serve to get the steamer Kansas into clear water. According to reports from the Wisconsin town last night the Northern Michigan Transportation line steamer still was plowing through the slush ice and making little headway a few miles north of Kenosha.

The Kansas went into the ice Sunday night about two miles southeast of Kenosha. All the morning the ship's crew worked to get the steamer clear and a shift of wind enabled it to get into a stretch of clear water.

After going less than a mile the boat was ice locked again. Several times during the afternoon the steamer was worked clear of one floe only to be encompassed by another. No communication was held with the crew. It is said no passengers are aboard. The Kenosha life saving crew was alongshore the entire day ready to give assistance.

LAKE STEAMER NYACK SAFE.

Muskegon, Mich., Feb. 12.—[Special.]—After floundering about in the ice floes of Lake Michigan since Friday night and being able to make but little headway except when small expanses of open water were met, the Crosby passenger steamer Nyack arrived in Grand Haven harbor late today, making the trip from Milwaukee, which usually takes less than five hours.

Twenty passengers went to hotels, exhausted by the long vigil, the ship several times having been threatened by mammoth cakes of ice.

Capt. Simon Lamorey said that without doubt Lake Michigan from shore to shore is now frozen over.

JOHN CORT STOPS FLIGHT OF SON AND MONTANA GIRL.

Seizes Harry on Steamship on Which He Plans to Elope to Europe with an Heiress.

New York, Feb. 12.—[Special.]—A projected elopement to Europe and mariage in Germany foiled by a parent are the elements of a story heard in dramatic circles, in which John Cort and his son are widely known.

The young woman is Miss Mabel Towers, who lives in Miles City, Mont. Her father, James Towers, is a wealthy land owner. Miss Towers and young Cort planned to sail on the Prince Friedrich Wilhelm. Just before sailing the elder Cort rushed up the gangplank. Finally he was seen on the lower deck holding a young man by the neck.

"Not yet, my son," the elder man said. "You can't fool your old dad yet. I'm sorry for the young lady, but there'll be no elopement in this way. At least, not this time."

Down the gang plank went father and son—Cort and Harry. Standing by the rail was Miss Towers, weeping.

ASKS JUDICIARY REFORM.

Senator Crawford Suggests Changes to Retain Confidence of the People.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 12.—[Special.]—Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, speaking at the annual celebration of Lincoln's birthday here, took for his subject: "The Initiative and the Referendum Make Not for a Government of and for the People but a Government of and for a Faction and a Fraction." Paraphrasing the Gettysburg peroration, Senator Lodge spoke at length, declaring "progressiveness" is a return to the political amœba; and that "popular government," a recurrence to the type which existed in Greece and Rome, had been tried and found wanting.

Says Reform Judiciary.

Jersey City, N. J., Feb. 12.—The independence and fearlessness of the judiciary and the need of remedying defects in judicial procedure, civil and criminal, were urged in a speech delivered by United States Senator Crawford of South Dakota tonight before the Abraham Lincoln association, which has celebrated Lincoln's day every year since his assassination in 1865.

Mr. Crawford's theme was "The Federal Union and the States." Among other things he said:

"Although it is necessary to maintain the independence and fearlessness of the judiciary, we should frankly recognize the fact that there is much which calls for criticism in the administration of our courts. There are many defects in judicial procedure, both civil and criminal, which all admit should be remedied."

Calls Sherman Law a Relic.

Denver, Colo., Feb. 12.—Common sense and honest methods as a panacea for governmental and commercial ills, bodily imprisonment in place of money fines, a national corrupt practices act applicable to state and county committees that have anything to do with the election of national officials, a permanent nonpartisan tariff board, and national control of child labor were advocated by former United States Senator Albert J. Beveridge of Indiana in an address here tonight.

Mr. Beveridge described the Sherman law as a relic of the seventeenth century, and said:

"The oil and tobacco trusts are more alive today than ever before, because they now live under the express approval of the courts, while not one wrong they have inflicted on the people has been ended."

TAFT SPARED RAY TO SAVE WOMAN?

Letters Show That President Sought to Prevent Scandal in the Army.

READ AT HOUSE HEARING.

Paymaster Alleged to Have Been Too Active in Political Affairs.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 12.—[Special.]—Letters written by President Taft and others sent to him today were read into the record of the investigation by the house committee on expenditures in the war department, into the alleged political activity of Maj. Beecher B. Ray, paymaster in the army. It further is charged that Maj. Ray is given immunity from various troubles because of the influence of the president.

Paymaster General Whipple testified that Maj. Ray had established a record in the service for frequent changes in station. In thirteen years he had been successively stationed at eighteen points; whereas the average assignment of a paymaster at any station is between three and four years.

Says Taft Directed Change.

Chairman Helm asked Gen. Whipple if any of the assignments had been made at the direction of President Taft.

"Yes," he answered. "In 1909 the president asked that Maj. Ray be sent to Atlanta, and in November, 1911, that he be sent to New York."

"At whose request was it that Maj. Ray was sent to Chicago from Atlanta rather than to New York?"

"I received orders from the chief of staff's office to make the change to Chicago. The chief of staff said Mrs. Ray was ill and a surgical operation was to be performed in Chicago. Gen. Carter said this change was made at the request of the White House."

Taft Letter to Whipple.

One of the letters of President Taft to Paymaster General Whipple follows:

(Personal and confidential.)

"Beverly, July 5, 1910—Dear Gen. Whipple: I have read the letter of (——) regarding Paymaster Ray, which you have shown me because in times past I had had a personal interest in the welfare of Maj. Ray. I have no relations with Maj. Ray that prevent my directing you to take the same disciplinary action in respect to him as in the case of any of your subordinates.

"It seems to me that it would be wise to send Gen. Garlington or a trusted assistant to inspect Ray's accounts and those of his clerk as well as the charges (——) makes, and if the facts turn out to be as (——) states, to separate (——) from Ray at once.

"While Ray's conduct, if (——'s) charges are true, could subject him to the severest condemnation, there seems, from (——'s) language and telegram to be such a condonation by him and his wife that it would be well to avert the demoralizing scandal for the army involved in the court martial proceedings which would place a stigma on (——) and Mr. (——) which they could never recover from.

Sought to Protect Woman.

"Ray could be told that his superiors knew his fault and have provided against it, and in the interest of his victims and the army it was deemed best not to present it to a board on the condition that he avoid such conduct in the future.

"These suggestions are upon the assumption that (——'s) charges are true and that Gen. Garlington knows them to be so. I do not favor court martial proceedings in such cases where there is condonation, in order to prevent scandal. The army suffers, the parties suffer, and only the prurient readers of such trials receive any advantage.

"You can show this letter to Gen. Garlington and Gen. Oliver, but I would prefer that it do not go on your official files.

"Maj. Ray did me some service of a political character years ago at the instance of my brother and he is disposed to assume much, too much, on that score. I wish him treated as any other officer in the service and I would make the same suggestion as to any army officer in a similar case.

"WILLIAM H. TAFT."

Suggests Clemency to Ray.

A year later President Taft sent this letter to Gen. Whipple:

"The White House, Washington, July 14, 1911.—My Dear Gen. Whipple: I write this that you may show it to Mr. Hay and Mr. Sweet of the military committee. You have come to me at your own instance with the statement that you have learned that Mr. Sweet is indignant because he thinks he has been misquoted in regard to an omission of two or three pages of the war department report called for by H. R. 208.

"The part of the record omitted refers to a charge against Maj. Beecher B. Ray of illicit relations with a certain married woman in respect to which I was consulted by you at the time the charge was made, and also at the time the resolution was passed.

"I saw Mr. Sweet in New Haven and told him that I deprecated its being brought out, as I thought it would tend to blast the reputation of a married woman, who, as I understood, was living happily with her husband, and was not probably what the committee was searching for. I asked him to see Mr. Covington, who had prompted the resolution, and find if that part of the record might be omitted.

Thought Sweet Had Consented.

"I understood from the secretary of war and also from Gen. Wood that Mr. Sweet had consented to an omission of that part of the record unless, upon its being brought to the attention of the committee, a full record was desired, and that in accordance with that understanding the particular pages of the record were omitted from the return until further notice was received from Mr. Sweet.

"I do not desire any misunderstanding and I wish that the whole record shall go to the committee if the committee desires it and to know what the circumstances are. I will ask you therefore to take the pages of the record to Mr. Hay, the chairman of the military committee, and to Mr. Sweet, show them the pages and such correspondence, confidential or otherwise, referred to in the record.

"You have also a letter from me written July last when you consulted me about this matter, which I intended to be confidential and not to be put on the files, but I have no objection to your showing that letter to Mr. Hay and to Mr. [——] and if they desire to bring that out, you may make it a part of the record. You will please explain to them the circumstances.

"WILLIAM H. TAFT."

Whipple Charged Suppression.

Messrs. Sweet and Covington, referred to in the president's letters, are representatives in congress from Michigan and Maryland, respectively.

Gen. Whipple testified on Saturday that President Taft's letters had "suppressed" charges against Maj. Ray.

RAY DENIES ALL CHARGES.

Maj. Ray, who is army paymaster in Chicago, denied last night that he had been charged with too great friendship with a married woman or that he had enjoyed special favors through the influence of President Taft.

"I never heard of any charges such as are mentioned in the president's letter," he said. "I have no idea what basis there is for the statement in the letter. I know of no woman who could possibly be mentioned with me in such a connection.

"The charges of enjoyment of special favors and frequent changes in station are false also."

WIFE JAILS ICE CREAM MAKER; SAYS HE ELOPED WITH MAID.

Charles Schmidt of Maywood Returns from Absence with Alleged Soul Mate in Cincinnati.

Charles Schmidt, an ice cream manufacturer of Maywood, it is said, got back last week from an eighteen months' hegira with Bertha Dreeves, his wife's housemaid. Mrs. Schmidt promptly had both her husband and his alleged soul mate arrested. Mrs. Schmidt had found it difficult to keep herself and their 4 year old son alive. Schmidt and the girl were released on bond yesterday from the county jail and will be arraigned next Monday on a statutory charge.

Mr. Schmidt is 50 years old. He had been married five years when Miss Dreeves came into his life by way of the back door and an employment agency. Miss Dreeves was 19 years old and pretty. Mrs. Schmidt was several years older.

Mrs. Schmidt says she discharged her housemaid at precisely 7 o'clock each morning. The proceeding was rather futile, as Mr. Schmidt always hired her back at increased wages. Mrs. Schmidt endured this for several months. On Aug. 16, 1910, Mr. Schmidt finally allowed her to discharge Bertha for good and all. It was a great triumph and lasted until the evening of Aug. 17, when Mr. Schmidt announced his resignation.

He left the next day, and selling his ice cream factory moved to Cincinnati. He remained there until last week.

2 POUND BABY FIGHTS FOR LIFE.

Doctors See No Hope, but Nurse Joins the Child in Struggle at the Hospital.

One of the smallest babies ever born in this city is being cared for at the Wesley hospital. Although 3 weeks old the child weighs only two pounds and is less than twelve inches tall.

The mother is Mrs. Evelyn Morton. She had been deserted by her husband four months ago and came to Chicago looking for work. She gave birth to twins—both boys. One died, but the other's pitiful struggle for existence in a world that has dealt none too kindly with his mother has enlisted the sympathy of Miss Josephine B. Hunt, his nurse.

Although the doctors are sure the baby cannot live, Miss Hunt is just as sure he will and has pledged herself to aid him in his battle.

NURSES SEE SOCIETY PLAYS

Final Rehearsal of Benefit for Infant Welfare Society Given.

OFFER FOUR LITTLE DRAMAS

Entertainment Will Be Tomorrow Night; Seat Sale Assures Success.

The nurses of the Infant Welfare society, the Visiting Nurse association, and the city health department were the guests at the dress rehearsal last night of the four plays to be given tomorrow night at the Marquette hall for the benefit of the Infant Welfare society. As the plays are to be given for the benefit of these nurses as a mark of consideration they were admitted to the rehearsal of the performance. More than two hundred responded to the invitation.

The four playlets are very short, hardly of sufficient length to be called plays. "Somewoman," a morality play, by Mrs. James Keeley and Mrs. Horace Martin, represents the search of the modern woman for the vote. "The Noble Tzigane," by Mrs. Howard Shaw, was remarkable for the scenic effects and weird plot. Mrs. Laird Bell as Andrea's Ghost and the Comtesse Dedons de Pierrefeu acted their parts ably. Mme. Eleanor Gizycka appeared as Mary Kearny in "By-Products," a one act play by Joseph Medill Patterson.

PUSH COUNTY MERIT INQUIRY.

Authorities Agree That Investigation Be Continued Along Lines Adopted by the State's Attorney.

Further investigation into the charges made by the Civil Service Reform association against the conduct of the county civil service and President Peter Bartzen of the county board is to be made by the state's attorney's office. The entire situation was canvassed yesterday at a lengthy conference. The investigation is to be continued by the state's attorney's office along the same lines it already has taken.

WALK 2 MILES IN CITY HALL AND FIND MANY DEFECTS.

Aldermen, Architects, and Contractors Go from Roof to Cellar—Miss Smith's "Museum" Gone.

A business trip of nearly two miles was taken in the city hall yesterday. A party of aldermen and city officials and representatives of the architects and contractors for the building were the travelers. They were looking for defects in construction.

Their chief discovery was the fact that Miss Valentine Smith and her "museum of municipal history" had departed, upon orders from Commissioner McGann of the public works department. He said the room was needed by regularly constituted branches of the municipal government.

The investigating party began at the roof. There they found the dripping steam exhaust threatening to drop another big icicle through the glass roof of the light court into the water office. On the upper floors they found some defective woodwork; on the lower ones some roughly patched linoleum, and all the windows so loose the cold wind sailed in.

When they had completed their journey by crawling under the boilers in the basement Ald. Nance found a pedometer in his pocket registered nearly two miles.

CALL ROACH IN CAR INQUIRY

Chicago Railways President Faces Council Body Today.

INVESTIGATE POOR SERVICE.

Traction Officials "Explain" Why Ordinance Is Ignored.

John M. Roach, president of the Chicago Railways company, is to have an opportunity of explaining personally the shortcomings of his street car service.

He will be invited today to attend a meeting of a subcommittee of the council committee on local transportation. The subcommittee has started an investigation of the general complaints of poor car service. At a meeting yesterday it voted to invite Mr. Roach to attend a session and enlighten the councilmen upon the chances of placing more cars in operation on the line suffering the most grievously.

Traction Officials Questioned.

The two general causes of criticism were the insufficient number of cars in operation and the "bunching" of three or more of them in service.

Demands for information why the 215 additional big cars required by the Consolidated Traction ordinance had not been put in service were made. The ordinance was passed more than a year ago and it was said that only seventeen of the cars have been put in operation.

Chance for Relief Scanty.

Williston Fish, vice president of the company, was on hand to present its case. George Weston of the supervising board also was dragged into the discussion. They stated that the company is making the cars at its own shops at the rate of fifteen a month.

Ald. Eugene Block estimated that the remaining 198 would be completed in fourteen months, so that there was no relief in sight from this direction.

PLAN ARREST OF LABOR MEN TODAY

Number of Defendants in Dynamite Case Now Is Reported to Be 54.

FIVE CHICAGOANS IN NET.

Leaders Who Believe They Are Under Indictment in Conference at Indianapolis.

The government's net is fast closing in on labor officials charged by the federal grand jury at Indianapolis last Tuesday with complicity in the McNamara and other bomb outrages.

Copies of ten indictments returned by the federal grand jury against five Chicago labor officials are now in the hands of the proper officials for service and the command to take them in custody will be given today or tomorrow.

Men Are Under Surveillance.

Certified copies of the true bills against five Chicago labor men were received by express Saturday afternoon. Government agents have been out seeking the whereabouts of the men accused so that when the word is given they will take them in charge.

Two of the true bills returned by the grand jury it is now known are directed at the following officials:

FRANK M. RYAN, president of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers.

R. H. HOULIHAN, financial secretary of Chicago local bridge and structural iron workers' union.

These two officials, according to the government's plans, will be the first to be placed under arrest. The indictments returned against them charge the two leaders with the interstate shipment of dynamite and nitroglycerin and also conspiracy.

The others will not be so easy to apprehend, it is said. Two of the accused men, it is believed, having already disappeared. The government agents are searching the country for them.

The government plans to take the labor leaders immediately following their arrest before United States Judge K. M. Landis for removal proceedings, following which they will be taken to Indianapolis.

PLAN ARRESTS OUT OF TOWN.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 12.—On the eve of the arrest of the men indicted in the dynamite conspiracy cases it was reported that the number of defendants would be fifty-four. The arrests may take place tomorrow.

A labor leader in Boston, several in New York, Cleveland, and Detroit, at least five in Chicago, one each in Peoria, St. Louis, Kansas City, Mo.; New Orleans, Philadelphia, Milwaukee, Hartford, Conn.; Buffalo, Cincinnati, and about five men in Indianapolis are believed to be among those indicted.

Six indictments are said to pertain to men living in Salt Lake City and west of there.

BALLOT FIGHT TO SUPREME COURT

Ask Ruling Today in Controversy Over the Listing of Names for Primary.

SEEK MANDAMUS WRIT.

County Clerk Moves to Get Ruling on Powers of the Election Commissioners.

An effort will be made today to put permanently at rest the contention of the election commissioners that candidates for county office must file their petitions with them.

The Illinois Supreme court will be asked to determine whether the Chicago body can extend its jurisdiction to cover all Cook county, in order that it may determine in what order the candidates' names shall appear on the primary ballot. No attempt at proceedings in the lower courts has been sought. Recourse to the highest tribunal of the state is asked, so that a final decision may be had before the ballots are printed.

The action is brought in the name of the people, on the relation of James J. Kelly, Democratic candidate for state's attorney. Alfred S. Austrian, attorney for County Clerk Robert M. Sweitzer, appears as counsel. With him is associated Edmund D. Adcock. They will present a motion for leave to file a petition for a writ of mandamus directing the election board to arrange the candidates' names on the ballot as they are certified by Mr. Sweitzer.

Three Contentions Are Made.

In the suggestions printed as an accompaniment of the motion the claims of the election commissioners are declared illegal for the following reasons:

First, because there is no obligation under the primary law upon a candidate for a county office to undergo the expense and difficulty of procuring signatures to two county petitions—one to be filed with the county clerk and the other with the board of election commissioners of any city within that county which may have adopted the city election law.

Second, because there is no provision under the primary law requiring or permitting the filing of two petitions, and,

Third, because the primary law specifically provides that each candidate for a county office shall file his petition with the county clerk of the county.

In support of the contention that the Supreme court may take initial jurisdiction in the case the printed suggestion include citations of several precedents.

Other Counties Are Interested.

In proof of the state wide importance of the question involved, it is shown that several other large cities of Illinois have adopted the city election law and have election boards. These include Springfield, Galesburg, East St. Louis, Danville, Rockford, and Peoria, so that the voters of those cities and of Sangamon, Knox, St. Clair, Vermilion, Winnebago, and Peoria counties are vitally interested in this case.

The document to be presented to the court contends that if the claim of the board were correct several provisions of the law must be judicially revamped.

Might Refuse to Print.

"It might as well be contended that under the provisions of that law," asserts the pleading, "the board of election commissioners of the city of Chicago could arbitrarily refuse to print the name of any candidate for a state office upon the ballot, unless such candidate filed his petition with such body."

In conclusion the Supreme court will be told:

"The purpose of the primary law is to enable the people to nominate as well as to elect candidates for office. Primary legislation was further enacted to invite a large number of qualified persons to become candidates for political offices, so that the people might have a larger and better opportunity for selection.

"If the interpretation put upon the primary law by the board of election commissioners is sustained it not only creates a chaotic condition, but places a heavy additional burden upon those desiring to become candidates for office and breaks down the entire system of primary election and the method of its conduct heretofore pointed out and easily discerned in many of the provisions of the law, to say nothing of violating the direct mandate of the law."

At the residence of Mr. Austrian last evening it was said he had gone to Springfield. It is believed he will endeavor to place his motion before the court this morning.

LINCOLN LEAGUE 'CLEARS' LORIMER

Senator's Followers in Convention Declare His Election "Unquestioned."

APPROVAL OF LEN SMALL.

Taft's Regime Indorsed, but No Mention in Favor of His Renomination.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 12.—[Special.]—The Lincoln Protective League of Illinois, under the personal leadership of William Lorimer, in state convention here today indorsed the presidential administration of William H. Taft, but did not go upon record as favoring his renomination.

The resolutions indorsed the long and historic career of Shelby M. Cullom and pledged the league to support him in his candidacy for reëlection as United States senator—provided, as Senator Lorimer said in his speech, that he indorse the league platform.

The convention promised its eternal fidelity to William Lorimer and declared it considered his election to the senate as having been accomplished without reproach or question.

The delegates adopted a resolution offered by State Senator Edward C. Curtis of Kankakee county pledging the Lincoln league to support Len Small, subtreasurer at Chicago, for the Republican nomination for governor at the direct primaries on April 9.

No state ticket was indorsed in the open and the county lieutenants of the Lorimer organization are as far away as ever as to whom they will support for the offices below that of governor.

Knock for Gov. Deneen.

The resolutions adopted declare "each of the three divisions of the government provided by our constitution should be left untrammeled."

They denounce "the repeated attempts of Gov. Charles S. Deneen to coerce and intimidate the legislature in the impartial performance of its functions."

They denounce the attempt of Gov. Deneen "to force through the legislature of this state, in defiance of the wish of the people of Illinois, a project to expend $20,000,000 which was voted for a deep waterway and for the construction of an electrical power plant between Lockport and Utica."

They "record our strongest disapprobation of the socialistic doctrine of the initiative and referendum."

Clean Bill for Lorimer.

The resolutions declare unequivocally:

"We heartily indorse the long and honorable record in public life of our junior senator, the Hon. William Lorimer, and express our entire confidence in his integrity, his fearless honesty, and the integrity of his election to the senate."

They declare unequivocally in favor of a protective tariff and the creation of conditions that mean the fullest possible employment of the laborer of the country and the procuring by him of the fairest possible wage as the result of his toil.

They indorse the Sulloway or Sherwood pension bills.

They "denounce the efforts of an inspired trust press falsely to pervert the news and the acts of public men to serve its selfish purpose and financial gains."

Slashes Brother-in-law with Razor.

FILINGS FOR ALDERMEN END

Total of Candidates in Both Parties Almost 200.

FORTY MORE DEMOCRATS.

New Hearst-Harrison Aspirant; Pringle Fails to Enter.

With nearly 200 aldermanic candidates in the field, entries in the race for the city council closed at midnight last night.

A number of candidates for the nomination for aldermen filed their petitions during the day. The election commissioners' office in the city hall was kept open until midnight to accommodate the late comers.

Democrats Lead by 40.

The Democratic candidates outnumber the Republicans by about forty. It is considered probable that some of the candidates will withdraw. Thursday is the last day for withdrawal. The primary election will be held on Feb. 27.

Among those who filed their petitions on the last day was George Duddleston, 115 South Throop street. Duddleston is a candidate for the Democratic nomination in the Eighteenth ward. He is backed by the Hearst-Harrison organization. Ald. William J. Pringle, who was urged to file his petition as the progressive Republican candidate in the Third ward, decided not to enter the race. Mr. Pringle said he wanted to devote his time to his law practice.

Robbers Beat Victim.

Edward B. Railly, 1228 Diversey boulevard, a bookbinder, says he was beaten into insensibility early yesterday by three robbers, one of whom was armed with a club. He was robbed of his watch and $17. The robbery occurred in an alley off West Harrison street, between South Peoria and South Green streets.

RAIL GRAFT STORY INVOLVES 2 MORE

QUESTIONS VEX 'FATHER.'

J. H. Hiland Refuses to Answer; Persons Named Reported "Not In" at Offices.

Two more offshoots of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul family tree were discovered yesterday occupying office chairs with companies in a position to sell fair quantities of their output to the railroad or its Pacific coast extension, the Chicago, Milwaukee and Puget Sound. About these two concerns also have centered rumors of extravagance in which relatives of officials have received the chief benefit.

H. H. Hiland, formerly with the Chicago Bearing Metal company, later with the A. B. C. Bearing company and the Wolff Truck Frame company, was said at these offices to be a son of J. H. Hiland, the elderly vice president of the St. Paul. At the Chicago offices of the Patton Paint company, with which the road has negotiated, is employed Fred Hiland as a sales manager. He, too, his assistant stated, is a son of the railway official.

J. H. Hiland was not in favor of discussing his family. He at first asserted his son was not with the Lester company, controlling the A. B. C. and the Wolff concerns, and formerly known as the Lester-Hiland company, but said he had formerly been with the Chicago Bearing Metal. At the offices of the concerns it was said he was the same one.

Father Is Irritated.

"Well, go and ask him about it," responded the father irritably. "I am not his keeper. He's of age. Go and ask him."

The Hilands of the second generation could not be found. They were as elusive as the vaporous Lawrence Fitch, son-in-law of A. J. Earling, president of the road, himself a trustee of the Puget Sound.

Sore Throat Wisdom If every mother could realize the danger that lurks behind every case of sore throat, she wouldn't rest until she had effected a cure every time a child has it.

Your family physician will verify the statement that it is a positive fact that every child with sore throat is in immediate danger of contracting Croup, Quinsy, Tonsilitis or Diphtheria, and is not removed from that danger until the throat is cured. Think of it!

Liniments or outward application of medicines do not and cannot cure the ailment, though they may offer temporary relief. Neither can you cure sore throat with a cough syrup or a cold cure.

To cure, you must get at the seat of the disease, removing the cause. Nothing does that so quickly, safely and surely as TONSILINE. A single dose of TONSILINE taken upon the first appearance of sore throat may save long weeks of sickness, great expense, worry, even death. TONSILINE is the stitch in time.

Use a little sore throat wisdom and buy a bottle of TONSILINE today. You may need it tomorrow.

TONSILINE is the standard sore throat remedy—best known and most effective and most used. Look for the long necked fellow on the bottle when you go to the drug store to get it. 25 cents and 50 cents. Hospital Size $1.00. All Druggists.

When President Benjamin Harrison Said: "A Cheap Coat Makes a Cheap Man"

he started something. Immediately his statement aroused a torrential conflict of favorable comment and adverse criticism. It did as much as anything at the time to maintain the then established wool tariff.

Among the men who realize most fully the correctness of President Harrison's view are the merchant tailors who have devoted their business years to eradicating "cheapness" from the fabric, fit and appearance of the clothes of men.

Chicago has just sent a special trainload of leaders in men's fashions to the National Merchant Tailors' Convention, which begins its sessions today in the Astor House, New York. They propose to keep in touch with and to lead, as Chicago tailors do lead, in the development of all that is really correct and desirable in the clothes worn by men who are not "cheap" and who cannot afford to look "cheap."

There are 45 different outer garments a well dressed man can wear in the course of a day. The Chicago tailors will make a special exhibit of these 45 garments.

In a week they will return with new inspiration to be displayed this spring in the clothes of Chicago's leading men produced by these leading tailors. Is Your Tailor's Name Among Them?

HAVE YOU BEEN WATCHING THE MODERN ATTEMPT TO EDUCATE EVERYBODY?
READ THIS NEW BOOK

All the Children of All the People

By WILLIAM HAWLEY SMITH

Author of "The Evolution of Dodd"

in which the well-known lecturer shows that this task of educating everybody has proved to be far more difficult than the early advocates of universal education would have dreamed possible. Discussions of this problem fill every educational meeting from the local Teachers' Institute to the annual gathering of the National Education Association. The problem is woefully unsettled, not to say fermenting, and Mr. Smith sets forth strikingly the common sense of it all, as it affects your children and "all the children of all the people."

GOV. WILSON ASKS 'KINDLY REFORMS'

Democratic Leader Favors Gradual Changing of Business Conditions.

SAYS PARTY CAN DO IT.

"Must Prove We Know What Is Wrong and Have Remedy"; Speaks to Iroquois Club.

Gov. Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey spoke about what he termed the opportunity of the Democratic party yesterday, when he addressed members of the Iroquois club at luncheon at the Hotel La Salle. He discussed present business and political conditions, and declared that the Democratic party would remedy them.

He asserted that business conditions should be changed, but that no ill considered or rapid changes should be made. He said that the tariff should be revised gradually so that business would not be injured.

Approximately 1,000 Democrats heard Gov. Wilson's speech. They interrupted him frequently with applause and cheers. Nearly 250 out of town Democrats were present. Edward F. Dunne and Samuel Alschuler, rival candidates for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, entered arm in arm and sat side by side at the speakers' table. They were loudly cheered. Roger C. Sullivan was a conspicuous figure.

Mayor Harrison was not present. He did not attend the luncheon given in honor of Gov. Harmon of Ohio a month ago. He said he did not want to become involved in national politics.

Pleads Protection of Business.

Gov. Wilson was introduced by Judge William E. Dever of the Superior court. He said in part:

"The business of America must be taken care of. America is a business country and the principal thing of which business is intolerant is ill considered and rapid change. It is distrustful of everything that it regards as experimental. It is disdainful of theory.

"Something exists in this country of which the business men are afraid, and if there is something to make the business men of this country afraid it ought to be removed at any cost. So business is getting a little more tolerant towards proposals. The combinations of our dominating business are seeing to it that politics are dominated by its purpose, and all those combinations are closely allied with those processes of business which are suspicious.

"When men say to me to let business alone I say I will do it upon one condition, that they will let politics alone. Politics did not enter into business; business entered into politics. If you want the politicians to give business a chance, give politicians a chance to act independently of the influence of money and of privilege.

Will Country Trust Democracy?

"No men who know anything will bring a general indictment against the business processes of the men of this honest nation. But it is because we are fighting the old thing—the privilege of little groups of men.

"Now the question is, will the country trust the Democratic party to undertake the solution of this problem? It is not a question of the individual leaders. Upon what terms will the people trust the Democratic party? In the first place, they will trust it just so soon as they are assured that the Democratic party knows what is the matter; that it does not see phantasms; that it sees real things.

"Then observe if the Democratic party is wise enough to see if the remedies can be matched with the details. We did not have to have statutes to fit monopoly. The immemorial principles of the common law fitted monopoly. We are not debating monopoly, we are debating the much more difficulty problem of how to stop monopoly. And wherever we see monopoly showing its head there is the place for using your shillalah.

Calls Democracy "Best Fitted."

"For my part, I believe that the Democratic party is better qualified to do these things than any other party, because the Democratic party keeps its connections and has kept its connections time out of mind with things that are fundamental. Always remember, gentlemen, America was established not to create wealth but to realize a vision—to discover and maintain liberty among men. If she is going to put her material processes above her spiritual processes, then all I have to say is that she has ceased to be America.

"So I think the future is a future of hope for the Democratic party. With its ideal applied and its knowledge soberly acted upon nothing can resist the impact of its force. America has come upon the constructive age, where she will ask business and business will consent to the processes of liberty and achievement."

STATE FACES ORATORY WEEK

Jones, Deneen, Wayman to Tour State; Dunne About Ready.

OPENS TAFT HEADQUARTERS.

L. W. Price in Charge of Offices for Renomination of President.

Candidates for the Republican and Democratic gubernatorial nominations begin their campaigns in earnest this week. Two Republican candidates start on speaking trips in Illinois today. Others will follow within a few days. Within a week it is expected all the candidates will be flooding the state with oratory.

Walter Clyde Jones, progressive Republican candidate, accompanied by Hugh S. Magill, progressive candidate for the United States senate, leaves Chicago this morning for a three weeks' trip. They will speak in northern Illinois towns this week and then go south.

Wayman Leaves on Tour.

State's Attorney John E. W. Wayman, Republican candidate, left Chicago last night on a tour into Macon, Montgomery, Macoupin, and other counties in the south central section of the state. He will hold a reception at the St. Nicholas hotel in Decatur this afternoon. Tonight he speaks in Litchfield. Tomorrow night he will speak in Hillsboro.

Gov. Deneen expects to begin his tour of the state on Thursday on a special train. His headquarters in the Hotel La Salle will be formally opened within a couple of days. Len Small of Kankakee, the Lorimer candidate, will begin a tour of the state within two weeks.

Edward F. Dunne, Democratic candidate, will begin a tour of the state on Feb. 20, visiting every congressional district. At the conclusion of his state trip he will return to Chicago and will speak in every ward and most of the country towns of the county.

"Indorsed in Every Ward."

Mr. Dunne has been indorsed by the regular organization clubs in nearly every ward in Chicago, it was announced at his headquarters in Hotel Sherman during the day. Several Harrison clubs also have indorsed him.

Taft headquarters were opened at Hotel La Salle during the day. L. W. Price, an attorney, is in charge.

HOLD LINCOLN NAME SACRED

600 Endeavor Societies Condemn Its Use for Political Capital.

RESOLUTIONS ARE ADOPTED.

Plan Move to Get Out Votes of Church Members.

Resolutions protesting against the use of Lincoln's name in connection with the name of any organization as a mask to promote factional or party politics were unanimously passed last night by the representatives of 600 societies comprising the Chicago Endeavor union, the Baptist Young People's union, and the Chicago Epworth league.

The occasion was the Lincoln celebration held under the auspices of these organizations at the New First Congregational church, Ashland and Washington boulevards, and the overflow service at the Third Presbyterian church, Ashland boulevard and Ogden avenue.

Plan Active Election Work.

The resolutions were passed at both meetings. Resolutions were also passed urging that bulletins be posted in all the churches calling attention to the fact that March 12 is the only day on which voters may register to be qualified to vote at the primary election April 9.

It was further resolved that a special committee be appointed in each church to see that all members who are eligible are registered.

Dean W. T. Sumner, Bishop Samuel Fallows, and the Rev. A. H. Harnly, northern superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, gave addresses on "Practical Expressions of Patiotism."

Lincoln Spirit Needed.

The Rev. A. H. Harnly, speaking on the political conditions of the present day, asserted that the Lincoln spirit of "firmness in the right" was needed today by the men who were so absorbed in commercial pursuits that they failed to take an interest in the larger affairs of the community.

"The well disposed, patriotic people of Chicago are in a majority," said Dr. Harnly, "and will control the legislative and executive branches of government if they assert themselves at the primary election April 9."

TAFT GIVES REPLY TO HIS OPPONENTS

Policies Upheld and Critics Scored in Speech to New York Republicans.

SEES VICTORY IN FALL.

Plan of Democrats to Retrench in Army and Navy Called Peril to Nation.

New York, Feb. 12.—[Special.]—President Taft tonight explained the policies which his administration seeks to carry out, replied to the attacks which have been made upon his administration, and criticised the course taken by the Democratic and insurgent Republicans, and predicted a victory for his policies in November. His speech was made at the Lincoln day celebration of the New York Republican club. In some of the proposals made by the progressives of both parties the president sees peril to the constitution and national law.

"With the effort to make the selection of candidates, the enactment of legislation, and the decision of courts depend on the momentary passions of a people necessarily indifferently informed as to the issues presented," he said, "such extremists would hurry us into a condition which could find no parallel except in the French revolution or in that bubbling anarchy that once characterized the South American republics.

"Such extremists are not progressives—they are political emotionalists or neurotics who have lost the sense of proportion and that clear perception of the necessity for checks upon hasty popular action which made our people who fought the revolution and who drafted the federal constitution the greatest self-governing people that the world ever knew."

Discusses Tariff and Trusts.

The president then told of the legislation enacted by the Republicans to curb financial monopolies and prevent their control of financial and political affairs. He then discussed the tariff, saying the Republicans will continue to uphold the policy of a tariff representing the difference of the cost of production here and abroad. He also urged a scientific revision, schedule by schedule, after a nonpartisan board had ascertained all the facts.

The president turned to the proposal of the Democratic congress to cut down the military and naval power of the country, saying:

"We have an army of mobile troops not more than one to a thousand of population, and now it is proposed by our Democratic friends in congress to reduce that army by eliminating one-third of our cavalry. They would cut out some of the best cavalry in the world, five regiments, which are needed for a nucleus of a larger army should we ever be called suddenly into war.

"For the same reason they propose to depart from the time honored practice of adding to our navy each year two battleships by cutting them off altogether this year. Certainly the diminution in the additions to the fleet ought not to be contemplated until the Panama canal is completed.

Shows Deeds of Republicans.

"I have said this much to show that the Republican party since its beginning, more than fifty years ago, has always been a progressive party and it has always recognized its responsibility by action.

"We know what we propose to do; we offer a definite program, show definite results, and we believe that these results are what the people wish. We do not hesitate to ask for their support.

"The arguments of most Democrats in favor of a return to their party have a general likeness. We have first a general denunciation of conditions said to be due to the Republican party, which every man would deprecate; then the statement of general good results that must be accomplished by following the principles of the Democratic party without specification as to what they are, and finally a pressure for an invitation to that party to assume power.

"They speak of a spirit of unrest everywhere; they do not describe what that unrest depends upon, and if they do they do not tell how it is to be remedied or what legislation will accomplish it."

Festivities Tonight for Dunning.

A leap year valentine party will be given tonight at Dunning in honor of President Peter Bartzen of the county board and Supt. Stephen B. Pietrowicz. It will be opened with a valentine cotillon, led by Mr. Bartzen and Dr. Faith E. Spangler. The decoration of the amusement hall will be in valentine style. Favors will be served with each dance. Music will be furnished by the Dunning orchestra of thirty-six pieces.

M'CUTCHEON AIDS IN PENSION PLEA

Cartoon from "The Tribune" Used as Text of Senator Kenyon's Argument.

PAY TO VETERANS URGED.

Increased Cost of Living Imposes Heavy Burden on Men Who Fought for Union.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 12.—[Special.]—John T. McCutcheon's Memorial day cartoon published by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE on May 31, 1911, furnished the text of a powerful appeal in the senate today for dollar a day pensions for old soldiers.

Senator Kenyon of Iowa held aloft the original drawing which depicts the men who went to the war marching in review before the men who did not go.

"Some of the opposition now manifested to the Sherwood bill," he said, "comes from those who remained at home and fattened on the prosperity won by the national arms.

"John McCutcheon, the great cartoonist, a short time ago pictured a Memorial day parade; broken veterans in blue marching along, feeble and bent and gray; near the line of march gentlemen in high hats and long tailed coats, fat, slick, prosperous, pompous, and contented—well fed, well groomed, well satisfied with themselves and with the world. The argument there portrayed is as powerful as it is pathetic. On the one side those who went to war; the other, those who remained at home."

Points Ways to Economy.

Senator Kenyon pointed out that congress had raised the salaries of its members and of the president; entered into an expense of hundreds of millions of dollars for the Panama canal, and had even retired Robert E. Peary on rear admiral's pay for discovering "something known as the north pole, which no one cares anything about."

SEEKS DIRECT ELECTION LAW

Gov. Osborn Calls Special Session of Legislature.

RESULT OF PUBLIC CLAMOR.

Choosing of Presidential Delegates in This Way Favors Roosevelt.

Lansing, Mich., Feb. 12.—[Special.]—Gov. Chase S. Osborn has issued a call for a special session of the legislature, to be convened at Lansing Feb. 26 for the purpose of placing upon the statute books of the state an act calling for the direct election of delegate to national conventions.

If the law is passed it will require a two-thirds majority in each house in order that it be given immediate effect. Should the measure be allowed to stand the regular ninety days before becoming a law it would be of no value this year, as the state conventions are scheduled for April.

Friends of Col. Theodore Roosevelt in the house and senate are strongly in favor of the proposition, as they claim that the ex-president will sweep the state if the selection of delegates is left to the people.

LA FOLLETTE SENDS THANKS.

Senator Grateful to Minnesota Progressives Who Stood Firm for His Candidacy for President.

"Out of a full heart I thank you for your good telegram, which bespeaks your unwavering fidelity to the cause. I became a candidate when no one else would lead the progressive movement. Though urged to do so, I have refused to make any combination or compromise that might confuse the issue or mislead the people. I ask only delegates who stand steadfast to principle.

"Your unswerving constancy in maintaining advanced ground will be an inspiration to all real progressives in every state."

Against this is placed in the report of the Cleveland department of public service the operating expense of the plant, as follows:

The cost of collection is given in 1910 as $113,187.87, and in 1911 as $128,070.86. The extraordinary expenses, such as depreciation, losses on bad accounts and loss of horses and cars, is taken care of in another tabulation. All of these totals form a table of this character:

	1910.	1911.
Expense, reduction	85,306.85	92,814.70

What Might Have Been.

Those figures show that it cost Cleveland $1.98 a ton to reduce the garbage. From each ton there was an income of $4.08, leaving a profit on disposal of $2.10. Applying the sale figure to Chicago's 126,301 tons, the income of the Chicago Reduction company should have been $515,000 last year.

Cleveland's profit per ton, $2.10, multiplied by Chicago's tonnage, 126,300, gives a total of $265,230. If Tom Johnson's opinion of the added cost of municipal operation is correct, 10 per cent more profit should be added, making a total of $291,753. Add to this the $47,500 obtained from the city and the total net earnings of the Chicago company should have been $339,253, figured on the Cleveland basis.

With this amount the company could pay a 6 per cent dividend, 2 per cent in taxes on a plant valued at $500,000 and still have a surplus of over $308,000 for 1911.

Just exactly what the company has actually made has not been made public. It is common gossip that considerable experimenting at heavy expense was done before the company obtained a plant with which it is satisfied. Three years ago an explosion occurred, resulting in the loss of ten lives. The company claims that accident cost $100,000. Other features of the operation are said to have cost the company large sums.

Pays 20 Per Cent Dividend.

The company this year paid a dividend of 20 per cent. John Eberson, the manager, claims this is the first one since the company began business and was accumulated in the four years of operation.

It is Mr. Eberson's plan to have the present contract, which expires Aug. 31, 1913, canceled. In lieu thereof he wants a new contract for five years from the present time on the compensation and conditions named in the old contract.

Manager Eberson sets forth his claims to a renewal in a letter to Mayor Harrison and other city officials. In part that letter reads:

"The Chicago Reduction company was awarded the contract for the destruction of garbage at a public bidding at a uniform contract price of $47,500 a year. This bid was the lowest and was 100 per cent lower than the next lowest bid, thus saving the city $250,000 in five years."

Mr. Eberson makes no comparison between the cost of disposing of Chicago's garbage with the cost in other cities where the reduction process is used. He claims the ton cost to Chicago is 29 cents. That includes garbage other than that delivered to the plant by the city teams. He does compare Chicago's cost with Milwaukee's cost of incineration. He give the figure as $2.98 a ton.

No Use Having Double Chin and Wrinkles

What woman is not so jealous of her beauty that she does not dread the coming of wrinkles, "crow's feet" and a double chin, as well as enlarged pores? The wise woman doesn't attempt to patch up her face temporarily with patent creams, lotions, cosmetics, etc. Rather than that, she goes to her druggist and gets an ounce and a half of old-fashioned thermodized jelly. Then by rubbing half a teaspoonful into her face daily she rids herself of her wrinkles or "crow's feet," her double chin or her blackheads very quickly. This simple remedy supplies the necessary tone to the fibrous tissue underneath the skin and presto! the wrinkles, etc., disappear.

Another good home remedy is coleated balsam, which flecks off the outer veil of dead skin which dulls the complexion and in a few days will renew the fresh blooming cheeks of girlhood.—Advt.

CHARLES G. DAWES TRIES AIR FLIGHT

Chicago Banker Is Brookins' Passenger in Hydroplane at Palm Beach.

LEAVES ALL FEAR BEHIND

Claims Trip Over Water with a Good Pilot Is as Safe as Riding in Automobile.

Palm Beach, Fla., Feb. 12.—[Special.]—Charles G. Dawes, banker, of Chicago, now numbers himself among those fortunate laymen who have gone aloft in an aeroplane and returned to earth safely. With Walter Brookins at the helm, Mr. Dawes flew across Lake Worth this morning in a Burgess-Wright hydroplane.

For some time Mr. Dawes has been interested in aviation, and took advantage of this opportunity to fly.

"All aviators know, and aviation promoters, too," said Mr. Dawes, "that the chief danger in flying is in not having the proper landing place when it is needed at a moment's notice. A lake always presents a good opportunity, no matter what the emergency, and a flight here is as safe as a trip in an automobile."

Conditions Good for Flight.

The weather conditions could not have been better for the flight. While it took some arguing and skillful finesse to put down the fears of his wife, Mr. Dawes nevertheless felt for his own education that it was an opportunity he should not miss.

He said he was momentarily frightened when the mechanician started to set the twin propellers in motion. Once he felt the power from the machine beneath him skimming over the surface of the lake, all thoughts of fear were left behind, and when once the pontoons lifted from the water, his interest was in the surrounding country.

One department that particularly thrilled him was the banking of the machine, but after several trials he became accustomed to sailing through space at dangerous angles.

Chicago Aviatrice Gets Hurt.

San Diego, Cal., Feb. 12.—Mrs. Julia Clarke of Chicago, a pupil at an aviation school here, was painfully injured today when a gust of wind upset her aeroplane and it dropped twenty feet to the ground. Mrs. Clarke fell clear. She says she will continue her lessons as soon as she has recovered. The aeroplane was wrecked.

U. S. HITS LOAN SHARKS.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 12.—[Special.]—A bill designed to draw the teeth of loan sharks in the District of Columbia was passed by the house of representatives today. It places money lending on chattels and salaries under government supervision and prohibits a higher interest charge than 1 per cent a month.

The bill was not passed, however, without a fight between the advocates of 1 and of 2 per cent a month, and the maximum interest rate. The measure as reported by the district committee and as backed by the leading charitable organizations of the capital specified 2 per cent a month.

It was contended by the protagonists of the legislation that the benevolent loan societies could not do business at a rate less than 2 per cent a month, and that a maximum of 1 per cent therefore would favor the loan sharks, who make up their profits out of secret penalties imposed on delinquent borrowers.

The amendment by Congressman Levy reducing the charge from 2 to 1 per cent was adopted by a vote of 178 to 83. Illinois members who voted for the amendment were:

Republicans—McKenzie, McKinley, McKinney, Madden, Rodenberg, Sterling. Democrats—Foster, Fowler, Stone.

Those who voted to sustain the committee provision of 2 per cent were:

Democrats—Buchanan, Evans, Gallagher, McDermott, Rainey, Sabath.

The bill provides that any person who loans money at a greater rate than 6 per cent per annum shall obtain a license for which he shall pay $500 a year. Each loaning company shall appoint an agent, approved by the district commissioners, upon whom legal process may be served. Licenses shall be issued only upon proof of the reputable character of the loan concern.

A $5,000 bond is required as a guarantee against violation of the law, and aggrieved borrowers may maintain legal action against the surety.

COUNTRY WILD OVER REAL HAIR GROWER

$100.00 Reward if They Fail—Read Guarantee

That the American people are very quick to recognize an article of real merit is proven by the rapidly increasing demand for Radizene, a remarkable new treatment for the hair which has just recently been discovered. While this new treatment for baldness, dandruff, gray hair, falling hair, itching scalp, etc., is remarkably simple, it is a fact that nothing like it has ever been placed on the market before, and it can readily be seen that this is the only safe, and sane common-sense treatment, and that success must follow in an astonishingly short space of time.

The proprietors of Radizene realize the fact that the public has had so much unsatisfactory experience with worthless treatments that a preparation of real merit is likely to be classed as a simple "hair tonic," and after giving the Radizene treatment a severe test in some of the worst cases of baldness, dandruff, falling hair, grayness, itching scalp, etc., they guarantee satisfactory results or money back.

Upon receiving the coupon below, the Radizene Laboratory, Dept. 890, will send their guarantee which tells all about the $100.00 reward to all readers of this paper, together with full free information regarding the new treatment. Don't send any money, for particulars are free. Simply cut out and send in the coupon below, and you will receive by return mail full particulars regarding this remarkable discovery.

BUILD SCAFFOLD ON WHICH FIVE MURDERERS WILL DIE.

Slayers of Farmer Guelzow Say They Will Face Death Bravely—Negro Turns "Preacher" to Cellmates.

Construction of a scaffold on which five men are to executed next Friday was yesterday begun at the county jail.

Arrangements were made to make the last few days of the murderers as comfortable as possible. The prohibition of cigaret smoking was lifted by Jailer Will T. Davies.

Ewald and Frank Shiblawski, Philip Sommerling, and Thomas Schultz are to be executed for the murder of Fred Guelzow, Jr., a truck farmer.

Thomas Jennings, a negro, is to be hanged for the murder of Clarence D. Hiller, chief clerk of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroad. Jennings, who was convicted on finger-print evidence, has turned "jail preacher" and has induced many of the negro prisoners to turn to religion.

Shiblawski and his companions are downcast. Vainly trying to smile, they declared they would go to the gallows bravely. The last hope of the men to escape the death penalty is in their final plea for commutation of sentence before the pardon board tomorrow. The doomed men have taken to religion and frequently spend hours reading the Bible.

Jules Lumbard Sings "Rally" Song.

The Chicago chapter of the D. A. R. entertained children of the Republican clubs and veterans of the G. A. R. at meetings in Orchestra hall. In the afternoon Jules Lumbard sang "Rally 'Round the Flag" from the box of Mrs. F. R. McMullen. The Rev. John Timothy Stone, in introducing him, said it was the song with which he had inspired thousands during the war and that President Lincoln gave his singing of it credit for thousands of enlistments in the Union army. The audience joined in the chorus. The occasion probably was the last Lincoln celebration at which Mr. Lumbard will be able to sing the song he made famous. His voice could be heard plainly, but it quavered. The remainder of the afternoon was given over to Benjamin Chapin's representation of Lincoln. A similar celebration was held in the evening.

American Wife Costs Place?

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, Feb. 12.—There are reports in society that the Earl of Granard will not be appointed as lord chamberlain to succeed Earl Spencer, because of the fact that his wife, who was Miss Beatrice Mills, is an American. It is rumored that the specific objection to the Earl of Granard is that it would be impolitic to have an American woman in a position to influence the lord chamberlain, who is the practical arbiter of British society through his power to determine who shall be commanded to attend court functions. The story has received much currency, but so far is not backed by anything authoritative.

Bishops, Priests and Laity of Episcopal Church Meet.

BISHOPS, priests, and distinguished laymen of the Protestant Episcopal church arrived in Chicago yesterday to attend the first meeting of the general board of missions ever held outside of New York City. Privileges of the University club have been extended to the visitors.

Word was received from New York headquarters that the Rt. Rev. Charles Henry Brent, bishop of the Philippines, will be able to speak at a dinner for the board of missions tomorrow night at the Auditorium hotel by the Church Club of Chicago. His subject will be "Te Awakening of the Orient." Bishop Brent, who is chairman of the opium commission of China, will leave the next day for his oriental diocese.

More than 1,000 churchmen and women will sit down in the banquet hall. A reception and arrangement committee of thirty churchmen will look after the out of town guests.

Every Chicago parish will be given an opportunity to hear the men who have come from all parts of the country to work and plan for missions. The diocese has been divided into nine districts and a central church selected for the mission mass meetings and conferences to which all other parishes in each district are invited.

The meeting places and speakers for tonight are as follows:

First district—Trinity church, Highland Park. Bishop Greer of New York, John W. Wood, secretary of the board of missions, New York, and the Rev. Dr. Alsop of Brooklyn.

Second district—St. Mark's, Evanston. Bishop Nelson of Atlanta, A. D. Parker of Denver, and the Rev. Dean Matthews of Cincinnati.

Third district—St. Peter's, Belmont and Evanston avenues. Bishop Edsall of Minnesota, Burton Mansfield of New Haven, Conn., and George Gordon King, treasurer of the board of missions.

Eighth district—St. Martin's, Austin. Bishop Harding of Washington, D. C.; the Rev. Theodore Sedgwick of New York, and the Rev. H. L. Burleson, secretary of the board of missions.

Presbytery Frowns on 'Stay at Homes.'

Compulsory attendance at Sunday services by all persons whose names remain upon Chicago Presbyterian church membership records is contemplated in action taken yesterday by the Chicago presbytery. Also it is planned to bar members who stay away from services nursing some personal grievance or petty "grouch" against a pastor.

Under a new interpretation put upon the suspension regulations the presbytery decided it is legal to suspend any member absent from church for one year or more either because of waning religious interest or a disgruntled feeling toward a minister.

All members noted absent for twelve months will be summoned for trial for misconduct. Failure to appear will entail consignment to the suspended roll, with disbarment from all privileges.

Conviction of and persistence in unwarranted nonattendance or animosity toward pastors will be sufficient grounds for permanent listing on the suspended roll.

Members who move to other jurisdictions without letters of removal will be subject to similar treatment.

Ministers who spoke at a meeting of the presbytery at 509 South Wabash avenue decried short attendance at churches and advocated stringent discipline of members guilty of chronic absence. Definite authority for proper disciplining of members was considered necessary, and the suspension regulations, heretofore a dead letter, were brought into play as offering the solution.

"Seventy per cent of nonchurchgoers are 'backsliders,'" said the Rev. Harry E. Peabody of the South Congregational church at a meeting of the Congregational Ministerial union. "It is astonishing how many Sunday school superintendents, church members, and leading citizens have slipped away."

The Rev. W. R. Marshall of the Ewing Street Congregational church listed school teachers among the "backsliders."

Hold Kindergartners to Schedule.

There is little hope of a raise in salaries of kindergarten teachers who did not share in the recent general advance ordered by the board of education. It was said yesterday by President McFatrich that there wasn't even a discussion of a raise in the kindergarten department, as it is believed that the schedule of pay is higher than elsewhere in the United States.

"However, we are going to investigate," President McFatrich said yesterday. "Secretary Larson is to seek information as to the kindergarten pay in other cities. It is our understanding that the Chicago maximum and average is the highest in the country, excepting only St. Louis.

"There is a slight possibility that if we find that Chicago kindergarten teachers are underpaid and that in comparison the present maximum of $1,075 a year should be advanced, the board may figure an advance for the next five years of $100. Such a raise would affect only ninety-three teachers."

Praise Censored "Nickel Theaters."

"Nickel theaters, which were formerly injurious to the morals of our children, have grown to be beneficial since the films have been censored," said Prof. Allis Hoben of the University of Chicago in an address on "The Delinquency of Children," at the Oak Park Presbyterian church Sunday night. "Where the children used to view pictures of crime, they now see pictures of an educational nature and pictures conducive to better living."

Prof. Hoben declared the Juvenile Protective association, of which he is the field secretary, destroyed 3,000,000 obscene postal cards last year. He denounced public dance halls as the greatest menace of the welfare of the youth. He declared that of the 350 public dance halls in Chicago, 285 of them sold liquor.

Says Boys Are Not Degenerating.

Prof. Herbert L. Willett of Chicago university addressed the Nineteenth Century club of Oak Park yesterday on "The Youth of the Twentieth Century." The program was arranged in honor of Lincoln's birthday.

"We are now entering the greatest period in history," said the professor. "Our children are the strongest to meet the events of the future, and we have developed so that the events are sure to come.

"I take no stock in the statement that the children of this generation are degenerating. I believe we have never had such children as are being born today."

Assails Vice at National Capital.

The vice district of Washington, D. C., is being crowded close upon the capitol, according to the Rev. Wilbur F. Crafts, superintendent of the international reform bureau. He spoke yesterday before the Chicago Methodist preachers' meeting at the First Methodist church.

The ministers adopted a resolution asking President Taft to appoint a vice commission, similar to the recent board in Chicago, for the purpose of "cleaning up this stain on the nation's capital."

The resolution will be forwarded to the men and religion movement meeting, now in session in Washington.

It is a part of the men and religion movement and is expected to be one of the largest denominational meetings of the year.

Linen Chest of Bride.

"We are two young girls who read your corner. We should like to have you publish what a young bride is supposed to have as regards home linen and wearing apparel. TWO GIRLS."

The thrifty Germans have a custom of fitting out daughters with household linen, beginning in their infancy and adding to the supply regularly until, at marriage, each has a great chest stacked with enough to last her for years.

The bride in our country is expected to provide household linen, together with blankets, bedspreads, curtains, etc., beside her trousseau, which embraces wearing apparel—a dozen of each kind of underwear—sometimes much more.

* *

Marking Bride's Linen.

"I should like to know which is proper for a young lady who is about to be married: Should her maiden name be put on her linen, or her intended husband's? M. D."

The linen should be marked with her maiden name—or the initials or monogram of the same. "There's many a slip 'twixt the cup and the lip," any one of which would make the use of the was-to-have-been bridegroom's name absurd and painful.

* *

Rules for Escort.

"Should a gentleman or lady enter a church first and on arriving at the seat, is it right for the gentleman, when ladies are seated, to step in front of them and seat himself in the middle of the pew, instead of remaining at the end? When two ladies and a gentleman are walking in the street isn't it proper for the gentleman to walk between the ladies so as to enable him to take both of their arms in leading them out of a crowd? "CONSTANT READER."

The man should wait until the women are seated and then take the place next the aisle. To pass by them and help himself to a seat in the middle of the pew would be awkward and even rude.

The man in attendance should always keep the outside of the walk next the curbstone. If he were to walk between the two women they would get the brunt of the collision with a crowd of other pedestrians. He would be shielded from possible bumps and shoves—not they.

Marion Harland is recognized by the editors of every woman's magazine in the country as the greatest authority on all matters concerning housekeeping and homemaking. If you don't know what to do in regard to any household problem write to Marion Harland, in care The Tribune, and she will gladly help you.

Paper Bag Cooking.

"Please tell me where I can get paper bags for cooking and where I can get directions for using them? R. H."

Business addresses (other than those of publishers of books) are not admitted to the Corner. If you will send me a self-addressed and stamped envelope for reply I shall tell you where the bags are made.

The American translation of Soyer's Book of Recipes for Paper Bag Cookery is issued by Sturgis & Walton, New York City. You will find it a trustworthy guide to the new process.

Usually Halve Profits.

"Is it customary in writing songs for the author to pay for the writing of the music? Can you refer me to some reliable music store or company where such information can be obtained? I should be very thankful. "FLORA E."

The author and composer usually halve the profits or make some such arrangements. The song goes to the publisher who pays a royalty to one or to both. I refer you to the excellent music dealers in your city for further information. I cannot name any one of these here.

To Bottle Grape Juice.

"Can any one put up unfermented grape juice without sugar and have it keep as well as it would with it, providing one is careful to seal the bottles with paraffin? RUTH W."

If this recipe be used there is no fear of spoiling. The best grape juice does not contain any sugar save that supplied by the ripe, sweet grapes from which it is made. Tart and unripe fruit should not be put to this purpose.

GRAPE JUICE.

Put six quarts of ripe, sound, well flavored grapes, stemmed carefully and picked over, into a porcelain lined kettle with a scant quart of cold water. Bring slowly to a boil and strain through a double cheesecloth bag, pressing firmly to extract all the juice. Return this to the fire, bring again to a hard boil, and seal in bottles that have been lying in boiling water for ten minutes. Fill them directly from the boiling kettle without taking from the range. An assistant should be ready with corks fished out of boiling water. Drive them in, cut off even with the top of the bottle, and dip into melted beeswax or resin. When cold pack them in sand, laying them on their sides. Turn every month.

* *

To Clean Ostrich Feathers.

"Please tell me of something that would clean ostrich feathers and white wings? I shall look in your Corner for the answer. "EMILY G."

Dip in cold raw starch and let it dry upon them. They must be freed from dust, first of all. Leave the feathers in a closed box for three days before beating out the powder. Or you may cl[illegible] them with gasoline, dipping them repeatedly in it until the dirt settles at the bottom of the liquid. Dry in the open air.

* *

Linen Dress Mildewed.

"Can you give me through the Corner a recipe for taking out mildew stains from a linen dress? It was dampened and left too long before ironing. L. N. A."

Soak overnight in loppered milk. Rinse in the morning and lay in the sun, wetting hourly with lemon juice or cream of tartar water. Should the stain be faintly visible after this process, repeat. It will not injure the fabric and I have never known it to fail.

Laura Jean Libbey's Comment and Advice.

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY.

They Did Right.

"Dear Miss Libbey: We are two girls aged 19 and 20. We are deeply in love with two young men, two years our senior. They seemed to think a great deal of us until recently we went to a dance. They took two other girls (strangers) home, leaving us to get home as we could. They asked us a few nights ago to take us to another dance, but we told them no. Did we do right? What would you advise us to do under the circumstances? We love them dearly and it seems hard to give them up. ANXIOUS GIRLIES."

You did entirely right. The fellow who treats a girl like that is not worth while.

* *

She Was So Surprised.

"Dear Miss Libbey: Last August I met a young lady while visiting in the country with my relatives, and I became attached to her. We find we agree on everything. I have made numerous trips to see her. I sent her a Christmas present she was proud of. I am her first steady caller; she has never gone with any one nor received any gifts, and always seems so pleased with what I do for her. Recently I called on her; my relatives invited her to have dinner with us. The following night I went to her home. Her parents insisted I stay for tea, which I did, spending the evening with her. I consider her a fine type of woman and am in love with her and told her so, or, in other words, I proposed to her. She seemed surprised over it and she wondered what I saw in her. She accepts my attentions and appreciates all I do for her. She said she admired my friendship for her, but she could not love me, and then cried, saying I couldn't understand, as only God knew her thoughts. She is a good, religious girl, affectionate disposition, and when I talk with her she never talks back but seems to sit and think deeply. She never had a beau nor received gifts from any fellow, and I ask you would you continue paying attention to her in view of what she has told me. I am almost sure she loves me. She worries when I don't answer her letters promptly. What would you do? ANXIOUS."

Yes, keep on calling on her. I am sure you will some day win her.

Jim Would Like to Know.

"Dear Miss Libbey: I want to ask you a question: Why is it all the ladies that advertise for husbands prefer city life? They seem to think being a farmer's wife is low down. They don't think farmers' wives see any enjoyment or live happy. A satisfied farmer's wife is the happiest of women to my notion. I am a farmer, widower, and I think I could make some farmer lady very happy. "JIM."

* *

Is It Puppy Love?

"Dear Miss Libbey: I have committed the sin of allowing the years to go by—am 35, and you might say a little shelfworn. Have bouncing good health, but never won a prize in my life for beauty. A young man 24 years young thinks I'm 'it.' Would you treat this as a case of puppy love and pass it up or would you take him seriously? I fairly envy the lamppost, where he leans when he says 'good-night.' In other words, I'm dippy over him. What would you do, adopt him and bring him up the way he should go or marry him? Your answer will decide the matter, and, while I don't want to influence your judgment, please, O please, give me the benefit of the doubt. "FLORA."

You are very silly, Flora. If you love the fellow and he asks you to marry him—why, marry him.

Rhubarb Jam and Pastries.

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

RHUBARB JAM.—One pound of sugar to every pound of rhubarb. Prepare as for stewing. Mix it with sugar and slowly heat it, and then cook slowly until the stalks are tender. After that boil quickly from half to three-quarters of an hour, or until it will set.

The old cook books seldom fail to mention rhubarb, "spring fruit," pieplant, or the Persian apple; the new books are not so sure to mention it. This fruit used to be a great boon to country housewives, especially for pies, "dear pies, for they take an enormous quantity of sugar." There was no telling except by taste how much sugar to use, because some rhubarb was much more tart than others.

In old fashioned "visiting times" a guest was sometimes offered such a succession of rhubarb pies, always as a great treat, as to lose all liking for this combination of fruit and pastry.

One of the old cook books recommends that the rhubarb be served in pastry shells—the vol-au-vents. The recipe reads: "In the spring of the year this makes a very inviting and wholesome dish, and its qualities purify the blood, which the winter's food has rendered gross. Cut up about twelve sticks of rhubarb into lengths of one inch, put it in a stewpan holding about two quarts, put over it a quarter of a pound of sugar and a tablespoonful of water, set it on a sharp fire, stirring it. Do not let it get brown or it will spoil and lose its flavor. It will take but a few minutes to do. When tender, put it in a basin to cool. A few minutes before serving fill in the vol-au-vent with it and serve cold."

Another recipe which uses scarcely more water—it is always a question how much to use—is as follows:

Compote of Rhubarb.—Take a pound of the stalks after they are pared, and cut them into short lengths. Have ready a quarter pint of water boiled gently for ten minutes with five ounces of sugar, or with six should the fruit be very acid. Put it in and simmer it for ten minutes. Some kinds will be tender in rather less time, and some will require more.

The earliest rhubarb in the market seems to melt done in the very shortest time, unless it is wilted. Later on, when the sun has a chance to help in the ripening, it takes much longer for it to cook, and it is often much coarser. Some people bake rather than stew the fruit in making a sauce. It seems richer when cooked in the oven.

The rhubarb is sometimes mixed with other fruits to make jellies, and lemon is sometimes used in rhubarb pies. The following is an old way of making these pies:

Rhubarb Pies.—Peel with care the tender stalks of the pieplant, cut them about an inch in length, lay them in the baking dish, alternately, a layer of the plant and thickly scattered good brown sugar and very thin slices of fresh lemon, until the dish is filled; add no water, as the plant is very juicy. Then cover with a nice paste. Bake three-quarters of an hour. Another nice way is to stew the plant to a rich jam and fill the puffs after it is cold, like cranberry tarts.

Competition.

BY LILLIAN RUSSELL.

[Copyright: 1912: By Lillian Russell.]

DR. S. WEIR MITCHELL writes that "The woman's desire to be on a level of competition with man and to assume his duties is, I am sure, making mischief."

If the higher education of woman, better understanding of herself, her children, and home is competition with men, then let us compete. We surely are obliged to look to ourselves to keep up with the man's daily facial massage, electric rollers, hair tonics, and face powders. Men are far more brazen about these things than women. You may pass barber shops in many streets and see men lying comfrotably in chairs with hot towels on their faces, or having their faces massaged. There is competition in that.

Naturally there are many women who know nothing beyond their own narrow circle of social acquaintances and to the penetrating eye which reads character, your pretty society woman's face warns you not to trust her with your secrets.

It is needless to say anything about the formal conventional lives which women lead that makes them prudes and pretenders in society and vixens when off their guard, which restrains the play of wholesome, natural instincts and activities, but keeps them in training for perpetual exhibition.

It is a measure of the degree in which competition enters our social life in America that boys and girls of 16 and 17 cannot meet once or twice a week to play euchre or lotto without a money prize for the winners.

You may smile, but this commercial idea of "go in for what you can get" eats the life out of society. More than this, it eats away the bloom of women by the incessant emulation and imitation it entails. Generous loving sentiments and freedom from petty jealousies make as much for beauty and happiness as fresh air and tasteful food.

The sordid, unspeakable jealousies of women, bad enough anywhere, inevitable in organized clubs and societies, where honors are palpable and attainable by recognized steps, undoubtedly have as much to do with their early fading as physical causes.

Women with wide awake joyful minds will go through hardship and stress unutterable without breaking down, where a common minded woman is crushed.

Mind will rise above circumstances if it is a healthy mind. There is no mischief in competition; it should be an incentive to improvement.

Remember: The desire to give joy and not pain is the greatest beautifier, mental or physical.

Little Quips and Quirks.

Of the Tribe of Pepausky.

BY RICHARD HENRY LITTLE.

IN the city of Gawcoche there lived a false magician who practiced his arts on the unsophisticated and was held by them in high repute, and daily they would repair to the pretended sorcerer and give him purses of gold for magic oil to rub on their faces that would render them invisible or for hairs from the tail of a black cat which when worn in the left shoe would cause every man they passed in the street to turn and lay diamonds, pearls, and rubies of great price at their feet.

It befell that when the story of the false magician was carried through the bazaars and the marts of trade of Gawcoche until it reached the great divan upon which the grand vizier rested that his followers gathered about him laughed with might and main at those to whom Pepausky had sold the oil of invisibility and the hairs from the tails of the black cats.

"Such things could only be," said they, "among those who are most ignorant of the language and the customs of our people and who have not lived long in the city of Gawcoche. These indeed are members of the tribe of Boob and few indeed are there of these within the walls of Gawcoche!"

Then they appealed to the grand vizier to say what he did think of these things, and the grand vizier, after sitting long in contemplation, lighted his pipe and spoke to those who sat at his feet.

"You have laughed much," said the grand vizier, "at the simplicity of those who believed in Pepausky, the false magician. But is it not known to you that within many cities there are those of the tribe of Pepausky who take willing tribute from people who regard themselves as most worldly wise and fully informed as to all things?"

Whereupon the grand vizier, filling his pipe a-fresh, again kindled within its bowl a plenteous fire, and after making the air thick with the blue smoke he spoke.

The Tale Told by the Grand Vizier.

"I was once," said the grand vizier, "cast ashore on an island where after walking many weary miles I came to a great city where ships from all the world lay in the busy harbor and to which roads led from all the country roundabout. In the city were many art galleries and institutions of learning, and it was the boast of all the people that they were wiser than were the dwellers of any other city in the inhabited world.

"Now, in this city were many public strong boxes of iron and steel to which the people brought their gold for safe keeping. I found that the people in their wisdom had drafted strict laws so that those who guarded where the citizens kept their treasure were held most strictly accountable for all the gold intrusted to their care. I marveled much at this and thought that here, indeed, was a wise and prudent people. But one day, while walking in the outskirts of the city, I saw a man standing in front of a bazaar which had apparently been occupied by a vender of meats and regarding it most zealously.

"Having little to do I sat down to watch the man. After a time I saw him search through all his pockets, bringing to light after awhile a small heap of copper coins and silver in small denomination. Then, taking this money in one hand, the man entered a bazaar on the corner where he bought some books of blank paper, four or five pens, and a bottle of ink. These he carried into the unoccupied bazaar which had been the abode of the vender of meat.

"Then he disappeared and came back with the three or four men whom he had apparently persuaded that he was possessed of much wealth, for they gazed upon him with great admiration. He put these men behind the counters of the vacant building and distributed the books of blank paper and the pens and ink among them. Next he came forth, and, going to a bazaar near by, made other purchases, returning with a large board and some brushes and gilt paint. Nailing the board to the front of the building he worked most industriously for one hour, and when he had finished his labors I read the legend he had written in great gilt letters on the sign board, which was:

STRONG BOX.
BRING ON YOUR GOLD.

"While I was marveling over these things a great crowd of people swept down upon the bazaar in front of which the sign was displayed. 'Now,' thought I, 'the people of this city being wiser than those who dwell in the country, are come upon this strong box to tear it down.' But, lo, I observed that the people all had gold in great quantities in their hands and they fought amongst themselves as to who should be first to lay their treasures in the new strong box. He who had painted the sign came forth and in a loud and cheerful voice bade the people to form a line and pass by quickly and that he would take their money as soon as possible, but there must be no pushing or crowding.

"In great wonder I spoke to a man living in the city and told him that I thought the storehouses of treasure had to be conducted only under strict laws and regulations. 'That,' said he, 'is true, and people that wish to have their money safeguarded by law can find many institutions to their liking, but this man to whom the eager people are now giving their treasure has a kindly smile and wears socks of a violet hue that just match his necktie. Also, he goes to church on Sunday. So the people give to him without reserve their hard earned savings and the treasure they have laid up to maintain them in their old age.'

"Marveling much that such things could happen in a city given over to learning I went my way.

"Thus you see," concluded the grand vizier, "that, even in a city whose people know themselves to be possessed of great wisdom, there are those of the tribe of Pepausky who have no lack of followers."

When the grand vizier had finished one of the young men who sat at his feet spoke and said:

"But O, grand vizier, you would not have us to infer that here, in this our city of Gawcoche there are those of the tribe of Pepausky scattered broadcast, whose followers are worldly wise and much enlightened and yet who do not know that those before whom they bow are but dealers in black magic?"

"You tire me," said the grand vizier with a sigh. "Leave me, I would be alone."

HONOR HISTORIC GOLDEN WEDDING

Descendants of Daniel B. Heartt to Celebrate Fiftieth Anniversary of Event.

16 GRANDCHILDREN ALIVE

Many Too Old to Leave Home Will Hold Fetes at Their Own Residences.

Descendants of Daniel B. Heartt and his wife, Jane Callendar Heartt, the first couple to celebrate a golden wedding in Chicago, will commemorate that historic event to-night, it being the fiftieth anniversary of the golden wedding. There are sixteen of them.

Seven of the latter reside in or near Chicago. Some time ago it was planned to have as many as possible of the grandchildren meet at the residence of William L. Heartt in Chicago to celebrate the day, but owing to the infirmities of age it was found that only a few would be able to make the journey.

Instead of this form of celebration, the descendants will have family gatherings at their respective homes, and those who were present at the golden wedding will relate to the younger generations the story of that happy event.

Recall Story of Old Fete.

From the files of THE TRIBUNE of Feb. 14, 1862, the following account is taken:

"The first golden wedding in Chicago—A startling caption, but nevertheless a true one! Last evening was celebrated the first golden wedding which ever glistened in Chicago. The bridegroom, a hale, hearty, sprightly, happy veteran of 75; the bride a good, comely, motherly woman of the glorious old fashioned style, renewing her youth, like the eagle, at 73.

"The golden wedding was that of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Heartt and was celebrated at there home, 122 Buffalo street."

Among the guests were Mayor Julian S. Rumsey, former Sheriff John Gray, former Mayor Charles M. Gray, Capt. George M. Gray, Silas B. Cobb, William H. Brown, Thomas Church, John L. Wilson, Mahlon D. Ogden, George Rumsey, Jerome Beecher and William Jones, all of whom were early settlers of the city. Several of them, according to THE TRIBUNE, were "accompanied by their ladies."

None of those mentioned is alive.

The six children of Mr. and Mrs. Heartt were present, also twenty-three grand-children. The former were William, Robert, Abraham, Chauncey, George, and Emma, who was the wife of H. O. Thompson. All of the children are dead.

Oldest Grandchild 76.

William L. Heartt, the eldest of the grandchildren, is 76 years old. He was a member of the Chicago fire department for thirty-three years, being retired on a pension three years ago.

"I was one of the grandchildren at the golden wedding," said Mr. Heartt yesterday, "and I was in hopes we could celebrate the fiftieth anniversary at my home, but the weather is too severe. Grandfather Heartt and grandmother came to Chicago in 1836.

"They came by boat from Buffalo. My father was with them, but on account of scarcity of funds he walked from Detroit to Chicago. I was only a few weeks old at the time, and with my mother was left behind in York state. When I was about 5 years old grandfather Heartt came back east after us.

"I remember their golden wedding. Grandfather was known as 'Pop Corn' Heartt. He used to pop the corn himself and peddle it around town in a basket. That was when he got too old for laborious work.

"But I started to tell you about the golden wedding. It should have been celebrated Feb. 6, as that was the anniversary of their marriage, which took place at Poultney, Vt. My aunt Emma had married a man named Thompson, and they were living at Covington, Ky. She had difficulty in getting to Chicago, on account of the civil war, and that was what delayed the golden wedding.

Chicago "Not Much" in 1862.

"Chicago wasn't much of a place in 1862. It was what might be called an overgrown village. Grandfather lived on Buffalo street, which now is called Federal street. In early day it was the bonton residence street, but after the fire of '71 it got to be tough and the name was changed to Fourth avenue. Many of Chicago's wealthiest people were born on old Buffalo street.

"I remember John Gray was at the celebration. He was one of the earliest sheriffs of Cook county. He at one time kept the old Green Tree tavern. Charles M. Gray, who was elected mayor in 1853 and who was one of the founders of the McCormick reaper works, also was present.

"Silas B. Cobb, Chicago's pioneer harness-maker and for whom Grandfather Heartt worked, was a guest."

Where Celebrations Will Be Held.

Following are the names and addresses of the surviving grandchildren:

William L. Heartt, 5402 Windsor avenue, Chicago; Edwin Heartt, 4158 West Twenty-fifth street, Chicago; George, Ira, and Jerusha Heartt, Downers Grove, Ill.; Mary Jane Evans, West Pullman; Smith and Frank Heartt, Knox, Ind.; Raleigh Heartt, Oklahoma; Mark Thompson, New York; James Thompson, Illinois; Mrs. Belle Leigh, Nebraska; Mrs. Alice Stiff, Harrington, Kas.; two married daughters of Chauncey Heartt, who reside in Minneapolis, and Chester Heartt, who lives "somewhere in the west."

Miss Hedwig Reicher In The Thunderbolt

BY PERCY HAMMOND.

MR. DONALD ROBERTSON was quite the thunderbolt of last evening's episode at the Lyric, although, of course, Sir Arthur Pinero and his play received due credit for their contribution to the entertainment. At the close of the third act Mr. Robertson, who had been theretofore somewhat timidly seraphic as the ignominious Thaddeus, full-blew into emotion and did the agonized dash out the rear door with great aplomb. Whereupon the audience waxed enthusiastic and many curtain calls ensued. Finally, to still the clamor Mr. Robertson appeared alone and modestly acknowledged the unusual compliment. It was indeed a gratifying incident, for it had been bruited about that Mr. Robertson was not at all within the picture of this modern drama. As a matter of fact he did occasionally transgress with excessive lyricism and poignancy. But it is comfortable to feel that one may write about him in this instance conscientiously and yet without risking obliteration at the violent hands of some Dialettante member of the Cliff Dwellers club. Thus, aside from the too cowering sweetness of his deportment and his infrequent outbursts into song he was much like this unclever, impecunious, and long-suffering teacher of music, and he deserved the gracious if sentimental tribute of last evening's audience. I hope I have not been patronizing. He was a lot better than any one had reason to suspect.

During most of the early scenes of the play Mr. Robertson hovered vicariously in distant corners of the stage quietly forging his thunderbolt. Mortimore, the rich brewer of Singlehampton, was dead, leaving a large estate, no will, and an illegitimate daughter, an art student in Paris. His brothers, their wives, his sister and her husband, a retired colonel of infantry, from whom he had been estranged, were found trying to suppress their jubilation under a crude sense of decorum and a terror that the will might yet turn up. Miss Hedwig Reicher, tall, dark, and silky, was this nameless child, and much to the relief of the surviving Mortimores, excepting Mr. Robertson's Mortimore, was too independent to accept provision from them, although heartbroken that her father had forgotten her.

Then Thaddeus' despised wife, a nice person, though the daughter of a minor tradesman, broke down and confessed to her husband that she, prowling around the deceased Mortimore's residence, had found the will, discovered that it left his fortune to a woman in Paris, and had destroyed it. Onto the scene of the feverish calculations of the other Mortimores burst Thaddeus with these glad tidings—only he, nobly, pretended that he was the culprit. However, as he was unskilled in falsehood, his story was soon brushed away by the shrewd solicitors present, and there was a nasty, sordid riot, all directed against Mrs. Thaddeus. It was there that Mr. Robertson emitted his piercing cries, "She's been a good wife to me! She's been a good wife to me!" and won the plaudits of those present. To clear away a situation which there is no time now to elucidate, it may be said that the nameless heroine agreed with much aloofness to accept one-sixth of her father's fortune, to forgive Mrs. Thaddeus her fault, and to bestow her heart, hand, and legacy upon the Rev. George Trist, who had been manifesting a mild and mannerly desire to be married to her in a preceding scene.

All these events and emotions were represented last night with as much effect as they were some four years ago by the then Mr. George Alexander and his company in London. Mr. Alexander was a shrewder, bigger, less cherubic Thaddeus than Mr. Robertson, and he dominated the play in a manner quite different, and I think less consistent with the character's meaning, though Mr. Alexander, of course, was rehearsed to some extent by the author. Last night's was a louder, broader performance than the original, particularly in the final moments of the third act, when the Mortimores, in their frenzy of chagrin, become explicably farcical. The play, I feel, is one of the less important of Pinero's. It is exciting, well told, logical, and set with delightful character sketches in outline.

But the least developed characters are the most interesting—the heroine (although Miss Hedwig Reicher's acting made her very satisfying) and the lady who destroyed the will. They are the people, the pivots of the play, whom we should like to know better. Since the author has not vouchsafed us more intimacy with these characters we may very well be content with a drama dexterous, intelligent, and interesting.

I wish there was time now to tell about Mr. Herbert Kelcey's good acting as James Mortimore; of Mr. Sheldon Lewis' equally fine characterization of Stephen Mortimore; of Miss Charlotte Granville's effective veneer as the worldly Rose Ponting, the wife of Mr. Edward Emery's epitome of selfishness, Col. Ponting, and of Miss Caroline Oden, who was such an attractive little girl in a minor rôle. The Chicago Theater society has cause to be proud of its company, in comparison with that which played "The Thunderbolt" with no commercial success in London.

A gracious concession, in the performance to the sensitiveness of one of the minor dramatic critics of Chicago was, it seems, unfortunate. The name of the Hearst journalist of Singlehampton, to whom many unflattering references are made in the play, was changed from Hammond to Thompson, which it appears is the patronymic of the paternal grandmother of Mr. Ashton-Stevens, the reviewer of the Examiner.

Nordica Too Ill to Sing.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 12.—[Special.]—Mme. Lillian Nordica was too ill to appear in "Tristan and Isolde" tonight. It is reported that her illness is not serious and that she will probably be able to sing here next Saturday.

Mme. Nordica has been ill for a week with neuritis and was unable to sing last Sunday in Brooklyn. Dr. O'Neill, who has been attending her, decided that Mme. Nordica was sufficiently recovered to come to Boston last Friday.

Theatrical News Notes.

"June Madness" is the title of H. K. Webster's play, soon to be produced by Mr. Robertson's Drama Players. In the words of the official announcement it "tells a story of the effect of an hour of 'June madness' upon the career of a splendid woman; ten years after she had felt and yielded to the vernal impulse."

The illness of Mme. Emma Eames has made it necessary to cancel the engagement of Mme. Eames and Mr. Emilio de Gogorza for the concert in the Auditorium Sunday afternoon, Feb. 25.

SEEKS TO RETAIN BRANDT IN PRISON

Strong Influence Used on Gov. Dix to Prevent Reopening of the Case.

ASKS AIRING OF FACTS.

Attorney General Says Jury Should Hear Claims of Former Schiff Valet.

New York, Feb. 12.—[Special.]—Immediately following the announcement that Attorney General Carmody would report to Gov. Dix that Foulke E. Brandt, former valet in the residence of Mortimer L. Schiff, should be pardoned and that the attorney general will call for an investigation to determine whether improper influences were used to obtain Brandt's conviction, powerful influences were brought to bear on Gov. Dix to convince him that Brandt's case should not be reopened.

It was learned to-night that the governor is wavering. On one side is the attorney general demanding complete publicity in the Brandt case. On the other are close friends of the governor, among them Alton B. Parker, who are advising the governor to pay no attention to popular clamor, stand by his decision, and keep the papers sealed.

Wants Governor to Decide.

Attorney General Carmody will ask Supreme Court Justice Gerard tomorrow to delay his decision on the writ of habeas corpus in order that the case might go back to the governor.

"I believe," said Mr. Carmody, "that the petition will be granted. The governor knows misrepresentations were made to him, but he is beset by people who tell him that it would be wrong to stir things up again on account of scandal. I am convinced Brandt was the victim of a conspiracy.

Will Ask Jury Action.

"If the situation is what I think it is, I shall report to Gov. Dix that a review of the case is necessary and that there is ground for clemency. I shall recommend also that an extra grand jury be summoned. If there was money used in sending Brandt to prison the people are entitled to know about it."

The attorney general believes the case is out of the courts and that the only way for Brandt to get freedom is by executive clemency.

Buy the Original
When you buy your front laced corset, buy the original—the GOSSARD, the only perfected front-laced corset.
If any store which formerly sold you the GOSSARD tries to persuade you to buy an imitation, remember it is because that store cannot now obtain the GOSSARD, the original and the only perfected front-laced corset.
THE Gossard CORSETS
"They Lace In Front"
GOSSARD corsets are sold in Chicago in the exclusive GOSSARD stores: 23 E. Washington St., between State and Wabash, and at 64 E. Van Buren St., near Michigan Blvd. In these stores the art of scientifically fitting front-laced corsets is thoroughly understood.
Because of the great success achieved by the GOSSARD front-laced corset, Chicago has been flooded recently with imitations of the GOSSARD. All are entirely lacking in the essentials of scientific corset making and resemble GOSSARD corsets only in that they lace in front.
An imitation never did equal the original. Such a case is unknown in commercial history. The reason is logical.
Model 208, here illustrated, is representative of the spring offerings now at our stores. This model is designed expressly for the extreme figure—to be exact, the woman desiring the most extreme corset. There is perhaps no longer corset manufactured and certainly none conforming so perfectly to all the requirements of the present mode.
The low, comfortable bust portion of this model easily encases the figure and does not raise the bust when seated. It is wonderfully successful in dressing the entire figure below the waist line. Four elastic sections are cleverly introduced at each side at bottom, one in the back and one in the front, and they alternately yield to the different positions of the figure and co-operate with each other in the close, straight fitting of back and sides while standing, and, losing none of the corset's comfort, preserve the same smooth, unbroken lines while seated.

THE ST. PAUL GRAFT REPORTS.

It is reported that negotiations have been under way to settle the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul graft charges privately, thus allowing the matter to "blow over."

If this is done it will be done to the injury not only of the St. Paul, but of every railroad official and board of directors in the United States.

To the injury of every stockholder.

To the injury of all American railroads.

And to the discredit of American business men and methods in the financial and business opinion of the world.

THE NEW REPUBLIC.

The Chinese republic now enters Peking. Its success was assured from the moment Yuan Shih Kai found that he had no money and could get none either from abroad or from the selfish Manchu princes, and found that the troops he had and could rely on were being attacked not by a band of enthusiastic, poorly armed, and untrained revolutionists but by the Chinese nation.

The revolt which has set up the new republic had undermined every foundation of the Manchu dynasty before a flag appeared in the open or a gun was fired at an imperial soldier. At every step the ground went out from under the men who feebly endeavored to preserve the alien government.

The danger which threatened China was not that the Manchus would defeat the purpose of the revolution but that they would hold it in check long enough to destroy responsible government and provoke intervention. This danger was recognized by such friendly nations as the United States. The abdication puts enormous responsibilities on the men who have set up the new republic. They now must keep the eager nations out of China by preserving order and protecting property in China.

BANKING SUPERVISION.

The failure of another private institution which in the absence of proper legislation has been permitted to do business under the reassuring name of "bank" emphasizes once more the urgent need of reform in Illinois in this respect. Coming sharp on the heels of the unsuccessful attempt by President Harris of the Illinois Bankers' association to induce the executive committee of that organization to indorse legislation bringing under supervision all banking institutions in the state, the collapse of the Wilson Avenue bank is a timely lesson.

At the same time THE TRIBUNE is revealing day by day the evils of the loan shark business, another form of banking that needs drastic handling.

In this situation the public will look especially to the great Chicago banks to prove their sense of public responsibility and professional honor by taking a lead for this reform. President Harris and the men who are supporting him should be given open and strong support.

The leading Chicago bankers recognize not only the advisability of federal and state supervision, but they maintain the even more rigid examination of the clearing house. It is perfectly natural, therefore, that they should support the movement for general supervision of all banking. With their assistance legislation will be enacted that will bring Illinois into line with virtually all other states. Not to do so would be to evade their responsibilities as citizens as well as bankers.

IT GIVES THEM PAIN.

Possibly we ought not to make the following confession bluntly without taking some measures to soften the shock, but it is clamoring and must be released. It has been a cause of sadness, indeed of keen grief, that we should be charged with being unfair to the Lorimer-Lincoln league. The accusation has been made repeatedly by members of this Band of Hope, and, let it be confessed, it has caused us pain.

It has been our belief that the more that could be told of this worthy organization the better it would be for the state. It has been our intention to give publicity to the facts relating to the league. Here again it was thought that this would be a benefit to the state. To be unfair to the league would defeat the purpose of giving such publicity. To misrepresent the league would be a foolish thing to do. Any misrepresentation of it could only serve it beneficially. We have no desire to serve it.

Hence grief and sadness and a groping about in the dark for a reason for this unkind, unjust accusation. Treat the Lorimer-Lincoln league unfairly? Never, willingly.

The distress caused by the unfair charge now yields to explanation. The league, it is beginning to be understood, objects to the use of Mr. Lorimer's name in connection with it. When it is called the "Lincoln-Lorimer league" or the "Lorimer-Lincoln league," the pure patriots of the Band of Hope become wild with resentment and maniacal in fury.

We now see the point of this objection, but think it not well taken. It might indicate that these Sober Minded Men are not without a sense of the incongruous, but that would imply a sense of humor, and they are devoid of it. If even the ludicrous could appeal to the Pillars of the Republic who control the destinies of this worthy organization they would not have summoned the patriots to meet in Springfield Feb. 12. They would have been afraid that their followers, when they found themselves assembled in that place and on that day, would yield to a great mirth and fill the state with their own laughter.

It being impossible to explain the objection to the use of Mr. Lorimer's name in connection with that of Abraham Lincoln on the theory that the Sober Minded have a sense of the incongruous, it must be explained on the ground that they believe the use of it hurts the league.

Even so we do not find it possible to eliminate the objectionable name. The facts will not permit it. We do not wish to misrepresent the Lorimer Lincoln league.

WRECKING A PUBLIC SERVICE.

Does the Hon. Frank Harris Hitchcock, postmaster general of the United States, propose to build up a false record of official economy out of the wreckage of the railway mail service?

If conditions are as outrageous in other divisions as they are in Chicago there can be no other explanation for them.

Here is a part of the record of five days, the experience of THE TRIBUNE in receiving its regular "exchanges." Only some of the most conspicuous newspapers from principal points are named, and no far western papers, where delays are sometimes excusable on account of storms and the difficulties of mountain traffic. Thus the record does not give an adequate test of the real conditions. How bad they are as a whole may be realized from these specimens:

New York World, Sun, and Times of Friday, Feb. 2, which arrive in Chicago at 1:40 a. m. Saturday, delivered Monday, Feb. 5. New York Evening Post of Saturday arrived Sunday night, delivered Tuesday.

Monday's St. Louis papers, which arrive in time for the afternoon mail on Monday, delivered Tuesday. Similar delay occurred each succeeding day of the week.

Nebraska State Journal of Sunday, which arrives in Chicago early Monday, delivered by the afternoon mail Tuesday. Des Moines Register and Leader of Sunday, which arrives in Chicago Sunday night, delivered on the afternoon mail Tuesday. Peoria Herald-Transcript of Sunday, which arrives in Chicago Sunday night, delivered Tuesday.

Cincinnati Enquirer of Sunday, which arrives in Chicago at 1 p. m. Sunday, delivered on the afternoon mail Monday.

New York Mail of Saturday delivered Tuesday. New York Evening Telegram of Saturday delivered Tuesday.

St. Paul Pioneer Press of Sunday, which arrives in Chicago early Monday, delivered Tuesday.

Syracuse, N. Y., Herald of Sunday delivered Wednesday.

New Orleans Item of Sunday delivered Thursday. New Orleans Item of Saturday delivered the following Friday.

New York World of Tuesday delivered Thursday. New York World, Sun, Times, Tribune, and Press of Thursday, which arrived in Chicago 1:40 a. m. Friday, were delivered Saturday.

If there are delays in delivery to THE TRIBUNE there are delays in delivery of THE TRIBUNE to its subscribers, and of other papers to their subscribers, and of the same class of mail of business men.

If Chicago were the capital of Tibet or was located on the head waters of the Amazon or was reached by way of Chilkoot Pass this record of public service might be excusable. As a public service given the chief railroad center of the world in the heart of the United States in the twentieth century, it is a disgrace.

If Mr. Hitchcock is crippling the railway mail service in order to show department retrenchment at the expense of the public, he is wasting, not saving, and the sooner an end is put to such false economy the better it will be for all concerned.

WOODROW WILSON, who was in town yesterday, is entitled to classification as a prominent governor who is not supporting the Roosevelt boom.

FISHING in the small lakes this winter is done by cutting a hole in the ice and scooping out the myriads of fish that come to the hole for air. This is what the poor creatures get for following too literally Dr. Evans' advice concerning the winter ventilation of their places of abode.

What is all this noise, about Another term for Teddy?
This cry, that if the people call
  For him again, he's ready?
I ain't a-knockin' Roosevelt, none,
  But, figure as you will,
I say this howl for Ted, just now,
  Ain't hardly fair to Bill.

  A bitter foe to graft;
A builder, great in every sense,
  All this and more is Taft.
Now Teddy, he don't need the job,

So quit this third term talk, I say!

How to Keep Well. By Dr. W. A. Evans.

HEALTH IS WEALTH

Questions pertinent to hygiene, sanitation, and prevention of disease, if matters of general interest, will be answered in this column. Where space will not permit or the subject is not suitable letters will be personally answered, subject to proper limitations and where a stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. CARE OF TEETH NECESSARY.

THE individual tissues, like the body as a whole, illustrate what Darwin termed the "survival of the fittest." Saleeby says the survival of the fittest means that the machine fits the work, and, therefore, it does not necessarily mean the survival of the best, for the work may not be the best work, and, accordingly, that which survives, while the fittest, may at the same time not be the best machine.

Man, having learned to soften his food by cooking, is not so good a chewer as some other animals; in consequence his teeth and gums do not automatically keep themselves as well as those of other animals—all of which means that the man who leaves the care of his mouth to automatic agencies loses his teeth.

In this narrow sense human teeth are not the best. But nature has endowed him with knowledge and judgment to compensate him for his loss in other directions. The man who cares for his teeth with judgment and diligence keeps them better than does any other animal. The combination of human brains and teeth is the fittest and the best.

It is a far stretch from the enamel with 96 per cent inorganic matter and 4 per cent water and organic matter combined to a soft, pulpy organ such as the spleen, nearly all water and organic matter. The peculiar chemistry of the enamel means that it is very resistant to bacteria as well as all sorts of chemicals.

In the famous Luetgert case much of the scientific testimony revolved around the destructibility of different parts of the human body by chemicals. It was found that boiling a human body in strong alkali dissolved and disintegrated everything except the crown of the teeth. If chemists boiling teeth in alkali did not injure the crowns, we can be certain that ordinary alkalis will not cause teeth to decay.

On the other hand, when teeth are thrown into strong acids, the enamel softens even quicker than the dentine—the bony framework of the tooth. But we never take strong acids into the mouth—certainly never strong enough to injure the teeth, since an acid strong enough to affect the enamel would be immediately painful to the delicate nerves of the tongue and lips.

Even when we take weak acids, such as lemonade, orange juice, salads, or pickles, the mouth "waters" and enough alkaline saliva is poured out to make the reaction to the mouth alkaline.

In searching for a cause for decay in teeth, we must look elsewhere than to alkalies and acids of such strengths as are ever found in foods.

ROOM NEEDS MOISTURE.

B. H. writes: "The temperature of our rooms does not go above 72 degrees and there is constantly a window open from the top about six inches in every room. The windows are never frosted in weather about 16 or more degrees above zero, although in below zero weather they are frosted. Is the humidity too low?"

REPLY.

A room kept at 72, with ventilation through a window down six inches from the top, will need moisture. A room kept at 65 and ventilated through wide open windows will not require additional moisture.

FURNACE MAY LACK CAPACITY.

E. C. B. writes: "I have lately had installed in my new residence an underfeed hot air furnace. It has given us much trouble during the recent cold weather. When the first and second floors were heated to 70 degrees the basement would be up to 90 and 100. In other words, any degree of comfort in the living rooms was the result of superheated metal below—so hot that the outside jacket of the furnace would be hissing and sizzling. Does not this process lessen the life giving oxygen? There is no provision for humidity. The furnace does not have the usual water pan in the casing. Our hardwood floors and furniture show the effect of excessive dryness. What remedy do you suggest for greater humidity, more oxygen, and freer air circulation with less heat in the basement?"

REPLY.

Probably your furnace has not capacity enough. Relief may come through storm windows, doors which fit snugly, storm doors, papered walls, and carpeted floors. If this fails, a larger furnace should be installed. Air which comes in contact with red hot iron is unfit. Water inside the hood is the best means of humidifying. Water below the register face in the floor or on the register is a poor substitute, but better than nothing. You must blow out your house several times a day.

HAVE VOCAL CORDS EXAMINED.

R. A. writes: "If I talk, or read aloud, or sing for just a short time I grow very hoarse. It can't be caused by a cold, for I seldom have one. Can you tell me the cause of it, and what I can do to prevent it, as I am anxious to learn to sing? Is it a bronchial weakness? Should I see a throat specialist?"

REPLY.

You should have your vocal cords carefully examined.

HOW TO VENTILATE A ROOM.

"Salutaris" writes: "Are the effects on health deleterious where there is no way to cause a current of air to pass through a room, no transom or door on the other side? Can you suggest any method for proper ventilation for such a room?"

REPLY.

I take it that you have a window on one side of the room. If you will raise the lower sash two feet from the bottom and lower the top sash two feet from the top you will get good results in weather below 40. When the atmospheric temperature rises much above 40 the house temperature will not move much air.

DUST FROM RUGS.

Mrs. W. J. G. complains of those flat dwellers who beat their rugs on the back porch. She suggests that leases include a prohibition of such practice.

REPLY.

No good neighbor will dust her rugs in any way that sends dust into her neighbor's house. Bad neighbors render life in flats well nigh unbearable.

EAT LESS OR SLOWLY.

Mrs. M. B. writes: "I wish to know why about every three or four weeks I have a cold sore without having a cold. Is there anything I can take that will cure the cause? What would cause pimples under the skin that never come to a head nor are sore, but seem to be under the first skin?"

REPLY.

You probably are eating too much or too fast. The grease glands of the skin not infrequently are covered in and stopped up by a thin layer of skin tissue.

LA MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

[Copyright: 1912: By the Brentwood Company.]

HUNTING has always been a pastime for which the English and the Irish have been prepared to make heavy pecuniary sacrifices. In fact, the amount of money spent each year on hunting amounts to millions upon millions of dollars. Nowadays it is costing more than heretofore, owing to the fact that most of the leading hunts undertake to fence at their own expense with timber the farmers' lands over which they hunt, and which have been fenced with wire. The latter is anathema to every rider to hounds and has been the cause of innumerable fatalities to man, woman, and beast. Indeed, it threatened at one time to put hunting out of existence altogether, owing to the fact that neither horses nor riders could in many instances see the wire, on which both came to grief.

Now, however, the various hunts employ professional hedgers, who in some cases replace, at the expense of the hunt, the wire with fences made of timber and in other instances carefully remove the wire at the beginning of the hunting season, store, and then duly replace it when the hunting season is over. This naturally adds greatly to the costliness of hunting, and is accountable for the fact that many mere subscription hunts have gone out of existence and that the finest packs are those owned by great peers and territorial magnates, who regard it as an obligation, due to family traditions, to keep up the hunts at their own expense, regardless of cost.

Lord Ashburnham, who has lately been figuring in court in England in connection with the will of his youngest brother, the late George Ashburnham, who died last year—the plaintiff against the earl being another brother, Capt. the Hon. Thomas Ashburnham, formerly of the Seventh Hussars and now a resident of Frederickton, New Brunswick, where he is married to a daughter of W. H. Anderson of that town—a brother who is destined to succeed to the earldom and entailed estates—is one of the strangest characters of the British peerage. He has but one daughter, Lady Catherine Ashburnham, who made her debut a couple of years ago, and of whose existence no one was aware for several years after her birth.

The London Times of Feb. 14, 1898, contained an announcement to the effect that "on Jan. 2, 1890, the Countess of Ashburnham gave birth to a daughter." It was the first intimation, even to the editors of the various "Peerages," that Lord Ashburnham was married. It had always been supposed that he was an inveterate bachelor, and, inasmuch as the only Countess of Ashburnham of whose existence people had been aware up to that time was his mother, an aged widow, the mystification caused by the announcement was great. It was to a certain extent set at rest by the announcement lower in the same column of the Times, among the marriage notices, to the effect that "on Feb. 25, 1888, a marriage took place between Bertram, Earl of Ashburnham, and Emily, daughter of Robert Chaplin."

The latter, on investigation, turned out to be a petty tradesman, very respectable, but of most humble origin. The countess lived a very retired life, was altogether unknown to the great world.

Lord Ashburnham is a man of great erudition, and of contradictory characteristics. For, whereas, in all dynastic matters, at home and abroad, he is an ardent legitimist—actually a founder of the White Rose or Jacobite league—in domestic matters he is a Radical and a Home Ruler. He is likewise a devout Catholic. In order to increase the fortune of his only daughter, to whom he is passionately devoted, he sold about twelve years ago the greater part of his world famed library, the gems of which, including the Mazarin Bible and the M. S. Evangelarium, given by Emperor Louis the Pious to the convent of Noble Canonesses, which he founded in A. D. 834 at Lindau, on Lake Constance, found their way into the possession of J. Pierpont Morgan, and are now figuring in the latter's library in New York.

The Prince George of Battenberg who has just been appointed to the great British battleship Colossus as midshipman is the eldest of the two sons of Vice Admiral Prince Louis of Battenberg, now a lord of the admiralty, at Whitehall, and who will be remembered as having brought an English cruiser squadron across the Atlantic some four or five years ago to visit New York, Annapolis, Halifax, etc., being everywhere most hospitably entertained. His son, Prince George, is 20 years of age, and is, through his mother, a great-grandson of Queen Victoria, Princess Louis of Battenberg being the eldest of the children of Grand Duchess Alice of Hesse, and consequently a sister of the present Grandduke of Hesse, of the czarina, and of Princess Henry of Prussia. He has inherited the good looks and the stalwart stature of his handsome father, has been a universal favorite on board the Cochrane, and bids fair to make himself just as much liked on the Colossus.

The latter is commanded by Capt. Dudley de Chair, M. V. O., naval A. D. C. to the king, and for many years naval attaché of the British embassy at Washington. He had an experience as midshipman in the Egyptian war of 1882 which is probably unique in the annals of the British navy.

Dudley de Chair, who is a native of Canada, had been sent by Admiral Lord Alcester, "the swell of the ocean," commanding the British fleet that bombarded Alexandria, to convey dispatches from the palace of Ras-el-teen to the outposts at Ramleh. Losing his way, he was taken prisoner and brought before Arabi Pasha, the rebel chief, who sent him off under a strong escort to Cairo. As it had been intimated that the prisoner was no less a personage than Lord Alcester himself, his arrival in the capital was hailed by thousands of natives, yelling that the English had been defeated. When he alighted from the train at Cairo it was realized that his extremely boyish appearance precluded him from being passed off as the British commander in chief; so he was declared to be the latter's son and was then paraded through the streets, on public exhibition, as a type of the foe.

Afterwards he was lodged in a palace belonging to one of the junior princes of the khedival family, was treated with the utmost consideration during his five weeks of captivity that ensued, and became an especial pet of the princesses and ladies of the reigning house, enjoying the freedom of their various harems, treated by them as a particularly comely youngster of no masculine consequence.

That they were justified in this attitude is perhaps best shown by the fact that he resented it as reflecting upon his claims to be an officer of her majesty's navy, and consequently a fullfledged gentleman. His kindly treatment was due in part to his undeniably good looks, though of a very boyish character; and likewise to the circumstance that Arabi Pasha was particularly anxious to show his magnanimity and also to please old Ferdinand de Lesseps, whose good will he was anxious to retain and who had interested himself in the lad's behalf. Indeed, it was through the efforts of De Lesseps that the middy was finally released and sent back to Alexandria before Arabi's final overthrow by Lord Wolseley at the battle of Tel-el-Kebir.

A Sentimental Journey.

XV.

On the steamer we found the rules and accommodations the same as on the Steamer Cincinnati, on which we went to Germany. July 22d the steamer landed at Hoboken, N. J. As soon as we got off the steamer and into the company's waiting rooms our trunks came in and the examination of our baggage by the custom house officials took place. I would like to write of the American custom regulations but it takes too much space. Anyone who wants to see them can do so at my home. We bought our tickets for Chicago over the Lehigh Valley railroad, leaving Jersey City at 10 p. m. July 23d we visited Niagara Falls. In eastern Canada we saw a great deal of fruit, such as grapes, peaches and apples—the most I ever saw in my life. At Port Huron we came back into the United States, arriving in Chicago at 10:40 a. m., and arriving at Grant Park at 12:30 p. m.

THE PIPESMOKE CARRY.

"No weather is ill
—ENGLISH PROVERB.

To be able to sit with one's back against a tree and wait, a week if must be, for a drop in the wind, does not argue possession of a special kind of temperament, for I have two friends that are unlike as can be, whose capacity for sitting still is unlimited. All that either asks is a dry corner of the tent and a supply of tobacco, and the North-east may slant a deluge or the South-west crack its cheeks. My patience falls short of theirs. I can wait if only rain delays, but a wind that blows day in and day out puts me on edge, and I marvel that searchers for the southern Pole can face a ceaseless gale and keep their wits.

Prisoners of "this fierce angel of the air," on the lee shore of Basswood Lake, we turn in, the third night, to the shrill music of his pipes, but in the darkest hour I wake to find the music gone; hushed even the topmost choir of the pines.

"Argent Westward glows the hunt,
East the blush about to climb."

A break for liberty is resolved on. The tent is struck, breakfast is a small matter, and before our fellow-prisoners on the shore have roused themselves we are speeding westward as fast as bending blades of ash can send us. But in one stride the morning overtakes us; the javelins of the sun shower all around, striking fire from the gray rocks and drawing red from the burnt fir-tops on the nearer shore; the mist-phantoms, turned purple by the pelting sun-rays, scurry across the face of the waters. The day is up.

From what quarter may we expect the wind? We have not long to speculate. The West is announced by a band of silver far up the lake, marking its first contact with the plane. The silver spreads, ripples grow to waves, and before another mile is covered the whitecaps are running. We keep on, spite of aching wrists and shoulders, until the water begins to come over the bow, when we give up the tussle, and wonder whether we can make the nearest island without swamping. This interesting question goes unanswered, for a large launch has come up behind us. Distress signals are promptly responded to, the cargo is transferred, and from our "eggshell pinnace" we step aboard what seems, by comparison, an ocean liner.

THE TOWEL ORDINANCE.

Chicago, Feb. 2.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Is there a city ordinance or a state law requiring employers to furnish sanitary towels for their employés? I believe others also are in doubt relative to the above.

G. W. S., 1713 Hammond street.

A recent city ordinance prohibits the use of a common towel in public toilet rooms. The meaning of the word "public" has not, as yet, been interpreted by the courts, and lawyers are not agreed upon this question. It is probable, however, that the law covers toilet rooms used in common by employés.

HAD NO CANS HIMSELF.

Chicago, Feb. 4.—[To the Friend of the People.]—I believe that you can help me as you have helped others about collecting garbage and ashes. The garbage at this address has not been collected since Monday or Tuesday, while the ashes and tin cans have not been collected this winter, to my knowledge. An inspection will prove this, as there are ashes and tin cans all over the alley and in the vacant lot behind.

A SUBSCRIBER.

The superintendent of the Thirty-fifth ward advises me that this alley was below grade, and some ashes had been spread there previous to the receipt of this complaint. Garbage was removed on Feb. 2, and again on Feb. 8. Complainant had no cans for garbage or ashes, and notice has been served on him to provide receptacles according to ordinance.

CARS WILL STOP THERE.

Chicago, Feb. 8.—[To the Friend of the People.]—In behalf of many women who transfer from cars on Cottage Grove avenue at Sixty-third street, will you not endeavor to have east bound cars stop at the crossing on the east side of the street? The conditions at the west side of the street are very bad, on account of the saloons located on that side. All west bound cars stop at both sides of the street, but coming east about two out of three cars will not stop on the east side, but expect women to mix up with drunk and disorderly members of both sexes coming out of saloons on the west side. This is especially bad at night.

We beg to advise that the matter therein referred to will receive our prompt investigation and attention and we trust there will be no further cause for complaint.

SON MUST BE NATURALIZED.

Chicago, Feb. 10.—[To the Friend of the People.]—An alien receives his first papers July 10, 1906. July 10, 1908, he makes application for his second papers, which he receives Dec. 16, 1908. In the above case would the naturalization include the alien's son, who was born in September, 1886? Father and son have resided together continually. If the naturalization does not include the son, what process would he have to go through in order to become a citizen?

A SUBSCRIBER.

In reply you are advised that section 2,172 of the revised statutes provides that the minor children of persons duly naturalized, if residing in the United States, shall be considered citizens thereof. It will be seen, therefore, that the son of this alien, being more than 21 years of age at the time of his father's naturalization, does not acquire citizenship through the naturalization of his father.

In answer to the last paragraph of the inquiry, you are advised that the son must go through the same procedure as any other alien in order to be duly naturalized.

DESERTION BY A HUSBAND.

Chicago, Jan. 28—[To the Friend of the People.]—Is there a law whereby a woman is free after a certain long period of desertion, in which time she has neither heard of or from or received one cent for self or child's support from husband? S.

Desertion by a husband, without cause, for a period of two years is ground for divorce in Illinois. Unexplained absence of the husband for a period of seven years, where there has been diligent inquiry to ascertain his whereabouts, raises a presumption of death, and a remarriage by the wife after this period does not constitute bigamy.

MUST GRIN AND BEAR IT.

Chicago, Feb. 4.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Two of the bedrooms in our apartment are built on an inclosed court. The family occupying the apartment in the adjoining building on the same floor have a 4 months old baby. Every night about 12 the child wakes up and cries incessantly for about an hour and again around 4 or 5 in the morning. The parents pay no attention to its crying and make no effort whatever to quiet it. The child is perfectly healthy or there would be some excuse. When it wakens and is not given attention it becomes spunky and cries until exhausted.

The parents leave their windows open. So do we. This necessitates our getting up four times each night to close and then again open the windows, exposing ourselves to cold. Even this is of little avail, however, as the crying penetrates the walls. This has continued steadily for about three months. Our nerves are completely shattered. An appeal to our agent has been of no help.

Is there no way of compelling these people at least to close their windows and remove the child to an inside room? Please advise.

W.

Unless the crying of the child constitutes a legal "nuisance" you have no redress at law. Every person has the right to use his own property in any manner in which he sees fit, so long as he does not violate some legal right, or work some material annoyance, inconvenience, or injury to others. A trifling annoyance incident to the lawful use of a person's premises does not constitute a nuisance. The crying of infant children would seem to come within the category of "trifling annoyances" necessarily incident to the use of an apartment as a home.

T. R. AND A SQUARE DEAL.

Chicago, Feb. 9.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Why should it be a question of how many terms in these advanced times we ask of J. A. Widney in the Voice of the People Feb. 6, inasmuch as we are living in a free country, wherein every honest and intelligent man is considered a king and woman a queen, where the "people" elect a president who must advocate and indorse intelligence in its highest sense, absolute justice and eternal truth, which in reality mean a "square deal"? Wake up, old friend!

SOMETHING ANY STENOGRAPHER COULD HAVE DONE.

Harvey, Ill., Feb. 8.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—In discussing the celebrated dictagraph conversation that took place in a Toronto hotel room, I read in the organ of the Lorimer crowd a reference in which the report made by young Sheridan, stenographer for the Burns detective agency, was called sarcastically "an extraordinary stenographic feat."

Why call this an "extraordinary stenographic feat"? Even though Mr. Sheridan may have had but two years' experience as a stenographer, he probably is a good one, with a level head, as otherwise he would not be in the employ of the Burns agency.

I have had ten years' experience as a stenographer, have made verbatim reports of committee meetings and court proceedings, and I know whereof I speak when I say that young Sheridan did nothing extraordinary when he reported the said conversation. He did not attempt to make a verbatim report of the entire conversation, but only of such parts of the conversation as were pertinent to the case. There are times when all expert stenographers realize the importance of making good shorthand characters, and although Mr. Sheridan did not have the advantage of long years of experience, he was sufficiently expert to know that his notes would be subjected to severe criticism, and not being required to report the entire conversation, he exercised the greatest care to make his shorthand characters as perfect as possible. Surely there was nothing extraordinary about that.

E. H. WHYLER.

WANTS IT T. R. VS. W. J. B.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 8.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Theodore Roosevelt and William Jennings Bryan are, beyond all doubt, the two foremost men in the United States if not of the world today. In all probability the people will demand the nomination of Mr. Roosevelt on the Republican ticket in June next. I believe the politicians prefer Mr. Taft, as he is more pliable and more easily handled, but if they are convinced, as the convention day draws near, that the Democrats have developed a candidate strong enough to beat Mr. Taft they will turn to Mr. Roosevelt as their only salvation.

If Mr. Roosevelt is nominated for the reasons above stated, I would advise the Democrats to put up the only man in the party who would have a "ghost of a show" to beat him, and that man is W. J. Bryan.

Both these men are great big broad minded characters, and I feel quite sure they have for each other a feeling of love and confidence, and they each possess enough of the Napoleonic spirit so that, should they become pitted against each other in the great conflict that is to be waged this fall, the victor would invite the vanquished to become his chief cabinet officer.

If this should happen, as it is not at all unlikely in these days of strange things, the people would have the best from both great parties to steer the ship of state upon the turbulent waters that, I feel quite sure, the next four years will see.

IS MONOPOLY A BLESSING?

Hinsdale, Ill., Feb. 10.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—George W. Perkins asks for regulation rather than strangulation of combinations. I offer the opinion that monopoly may be a blessing in disguise.

Human needs are more and more supplied by corporations and their various combinations. The advantages of these business methods are so great that they must be accepted as indispensable, though the disadvantages are now even greater, for they all result in monopoly, which eventually becomes unendurable, making government control necessary, to resolve it into elements retaining the elements of strength and efficiency, rejecting those that foster "man's inhumanity to man, making countless thousands mourn." For lack of such treatment wealth has been rapidly centering in the hands of a few, which is diametrically opposed to good government, and largely responsible for the high cost of living. To convert this curse into a blessing, what better plan can be offered than a yearly requirement of statements showing compliance with limitations of salaries, dividends, and the issuing of stocks and bonds, so that there may be no advantage in higher rates, prices, or by any device raising more money from the public than enough to reach the limits?

LONG MAY HE WAVE.

Chicago, Feb. 10.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—"What has Roosevelt done?" It was during Roosevelt's administration that the irrigation of our waste lands received its stimulus, making the desert blossom as the rose, adding millions of dollars in wealth to the nation, and making it possible for thousands of poor families to better their condition. I remember in one of his speeches one of his arguments in support of his reclamation scheme was that "the home builders constitute the wealth of the nation." Does anybody deny this? It was during Roosevelt's administration that laws were passed which made it impossible for the large ranchers or "cattle kings," of the west to dominate over the small ranchers or home builders. Before that the cattle kings had it all their own way. It was the rich cattle kings who fought irrigation.

The railroads for years fought the Panama canal, and it was not until Roosevelt's administration that the deal was consummated and work commenced which, when completed, will be a priceless boon not only to the west but the entire country. There are other things, but THE TRIBUNE would not allow me space to mention them all. He is for the home builder and against the land grabber, the trusts and grafters. I say, Hurray for Teddy! CHINESE EMPEROR QUITS HIS THRONE

Manchu Dowager Issues Edict Proclaiming Long Sought Republic.

Hope for Continued Peace.

In concluding the second edict, the empress dowager says:

"Our sincere hope is that peace will be restored and that happiness will be enjoyed under the republic."

The third edict describes the throne's motive in modeling its policy "according to the progress of the times and the earnest desires of the people, with the sole object of suppression of a great disorder and restoration of peace."

"Should the warfare continue," adds the edict, "the country might be irreparably ruined and would suffer the horrible consequences of a racial war."

It exhorts the general in command in Peking to maintain order and to explain to the people that "the throne is acting upon heaven's will."

It commands the members of the cabinet and the viceroys to continue their duties, and not to shirk their responsibilities, conforming with the throne's perpetual intentions to love and cherish the people.

Edict Renouncing Chinese Throne by Manchus After Reign of 3 Centuries

THE EMPEROR

WE, the Emperor of China, have respectfully received today the following edict from the hands of her majesty, the dowager empress:

In consequence of the uprising of the republican army to which the people of the provinces of China have responded, the empire is seething like a boiling caldron and the people are plunged into misery.

Yuan Shi Kai was therefore commanded to dispatch commissioners in order to confer with the republicans with a view to the calling of a national assembly to decide on the future form of government. Months have elapsed and no settlement is now evident.

EMPRESS DOWAGER

The majority of the people are in favor of a republic. From the preference of the people's hearts the will of heaven is discernible. How could we oppose the desires of millions for the glory of one family?

Therefore we, the dowager empress and the emperor, hereby vest the sovereignty of the Chinese empire in the people.

Let Yuan Shi Kai organize to the full the powers of the provisional republican government and confer with the republicans as to the methods of union, assuring peace in the empire, and forming a great republic with the union of Manchus, Chinese, Mongols, Mohammedans and Tibetans.

We, the empress dowager and the emperor, will thus be enabled to live in retirement, free of responsibilities and cares and enjoying without interruption the nation's courteous treatment.

GREY TO REPLACE ASQUITH AS PREMIER OF BRITAIN?

London Graphic Claims That War Secretary, Just Honored with the Garter, Is to Be Advanced.

LONDON, Feb. 13, 3 a. m.—The Daily Graphic this morning suggests that Premier Asquith is about to resign, and that he will be succeeded as prime minister by Sir Edward Grey, the foreign secretary.

It further suggests that War Secretary Haldane's mission to Berlin was to explain that, although Sir Edward Grey has been credited with an anti-German policy, his accession to the premiership will not interfere with Great Britain's desire for an entente with Germany.

The king has appointed Sir Edward Grey a Knight of the Garter. This distinction is limited to members of royal families and a few of the highest among the nobility.

It has been conferred upon Sir Edward undoubtedly at the premier's suggestion, and is construed as the government's answer to the attacks, particularly on the part of Liberals, on Sir Edward's foreign policy.

GRIFFITH WANTS TRADE WITH SOX

Washington Manager Would Exchange Veterans for Promising Recruits.

LEAGUE HEADS TO MEET.

Adoption of Schedule and Ratification of National Agreement Main Business.

BY I. E. SANBORN.

With a smile on his face but with the hidden purpose of slipping Manager Callahan of the White Sox some of Washington's veterans in exchange for one or two of the recruits that may not be needed on the south side team, Manager Clark Griffith of the Senators floated into town yesterday and made direct for the Sox offices, where the two former pitching pals went into an executive session with President Comiskey that lasted a couple of hours.

Proceedings did not reach the ready-to-publish stage, but at the conclusion of the "con"-fest Manager Callahan admitted he was hopeful of getting something from Washington that would help the Sox while Manager Griffith hoped to get a couple of youngsters from the Sox to help his new system in Washington.

Neither pilot would mention any names. The only tried material at Griffith's disposal that would appeal to the Sox manager might be one of Washington's backstops or a man for first base. Griffith has in Street, Ainsmith, and Henry a pair of catchers who have made good and one who is thought to be a comer. The only available candidate for first base would be Herman Middles Schaefer.

Griffith Wants Young Blood.

Callahan has a small army of youngsters of promise, several of whom would fit into Griffith's scheme for a team composed of new blood. The veteran manager has decided to inaugurate a new policy in Washington this season. He has been discarding the veterans of the team whenever he could do so advantageously, and intends to keep on doing so until he has practically a new aggregation. He explained it this way:

"What is the use of paying high salaries to a lot of old timers and finishing seventh or eighth when you can finish seventh or eighth with a bunch of young blood which not only will cost less but will be building up the team all the time? If you have a team that is in the race it is different, of course, but when you haven't I have concluded that the surest way is to start building anew.

"By merely trying to plug the holes as the veterans drop out you never get anywhere with that sort of a team. The veterans go back too fast. But when you get a team of young blood put together the men all come along and reach their prime somewhere nearly the same time."

Pays Own Money for Stock.

The Washington manager intends keeping all the young players turned over to him last fall and hopes to pick up one or two from the White Sox. Griffith denied that he had any financial backing except that furnished by himself to purchase his interest in the Washington club. Of the money he paid for stock in the club all of it was his own, he said, except a small sum which he borrowed from a bank in Washington.

Griffith announced that Callahan had backed out of the pitching duel they had planned to pull off next summer, but Callahan denied this charge when confronted with it, and they had a verbal duel in part as follows:

"Callahan took one look at me, and when he saw the condition I was in he knew he would not have a chance, so backed down cold," said Griffith.

"He is a charter member of that club Teddy Roosevelt made famous," retorted Callahan. "It would be like stealing pennies from an octogenarian. I know I can pitch five or six innings, while you can't get through two without having your arm fall off."

"Just to show that I am game," said Griffith, "I'll pitch against you on the hottest day in August in Washington."

"Yes, and I'll give you that big handicap," asserted the Sox pilot, "because I know you would not be able to lob the ball over the plate on a cold day."

League Meeting Tomorrow.

Griffith is the first of the American leaguers to arrive for the American league schedule meeting to be held at the Congress hotel tomorrow. It is not expected to last more than one day and already Manager Callahan has booked reservations for a trip to West Baden tomorrow night for a week's stay.

In addition to the adoption of the playing schedule already drafted and the ratification of the changes in the national agreement already formulated there will be nothing but possible trades of players to engage the attention of the magnates and managers while here.

The only possible hitch in the proceedings may arise over a suggestion from National league sources to make it necessary to obtain waivers from both major leagues before a drafted player can be turned back to the minor leagues in the season following the fall in which he is drafted. It is not known whether or not the American league club owners will favor this change in the rules. Hitherto it has been necessary to obtain waivers from both leagues before a purchased player could be turned back for more experience, but drafted players could be disposed of by securing waivers from one league only.

Drafted Player Must Get Trial.

A change in the agreement which is expected to meet the approval of all clubs makes it imperative for a club owner to give each player whom he drafts a tryout either in the fall or spring before such player can be released back to the minors. This is aimed to curtail the traffic in young talent and to minimize, if not abolish, the existing system of using the draft privilege to help out friendly minor league club owners, or to stock minor league farms. It would make it impossible, for instance, for Detroit to grab a lot of players by draft and send them to the newly acquired Providence team without going to the expense of giving the drafted talent at least the appearance of a tryout.

The American league club owners are expected to begin arriving today and many of them are likely to put in appearance before night for the purpose of looking over each other's bargain lists.

The White Sox mail bag yesterday contained the signed contracts of Buck Weaver, the shortstop obtained from the San Francisco team of the Pacific Coast league. Weaver is wintering at his home in Stowe, Pa., where he has been taking the cure for the marshmallow habit which he formed out on the coast last summer. He realizes the strenuousness of the combat for short field on the south side team and that he will need something substantial in his makeup to earn a chance at the job.

"Bonesetter" Peel for White Sox.

Peter J. Peel has been engaged by Manager Callahan as official bonesetter for the White Sox this year. Mr. Peel, who has earned an enviable reputation by treating severe strains and sprains, is to tackle any White Sox troubles that are beyond the scope of Trainer Buckner's time and ability.

NATIONAL LEAGUE POT HOT

Annual Schedule Meeting Today at New York May Be Scrappy.

BRESNAHAN ON WARPATH.

St. Louis Manager Announces He Has a Rod in Pickle for Murphy.

New York, Feb. 12.—[Special.]—Baseball men thronged the corridors of the Waldorf-Astoria to-day, talking over the annual schedule meeting of the National league, which begins tomorrow. Although the schedule has been prepared, it was said that at least two club owners would kick hard against its adoption. The old ill feeling against Charles W. Murphy of the Chicago club may be shown, inasmuch as Roger Bresnahan, manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, announced to-day that he had a rod in pickle for the Chicago magnate.

Furthermore, there was a rumor that certain persons supposed to favor syndicate methods in organized baseball were flirting with the United States league promoters and were actually willing to back a new club in Pittsburgh. Charley White, the well known boxing referee, who has the New York franchise in the United States concern, met Barney Dreyfuss of the Pittsburgh Pirates at the hotel.

"You fellows have millions," said White to Dreyfuss, "while we fellows have only hunudreds. But we are willing to take a chance."

"You have a right to exist," replied Dreyfuss. "Go ahead as far as you like."

Edward Steininger, president of the St. Louis club, arrived with Bresnahan; Garry Herrmann, owner of the Cincinnati club, was on the ground. James E. Gaffney and John M. Ward of the Boston club were there to make friends, while the New York club was ably represented by Secretary Joseph H. D. O'Brien. President C. H. Ebbets of the Brooklyn club did not appear until after the dinner hour, but he proceeded to make things lively, as usual.

"TUBBY" SPENCER IN TROUBLE.

Held Under $1,000 Bail by Magistrate as Result of Recent Escapade in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 12.—[Special.]—At a hearing before Magistrate Emely today, Edward ("Tubby") Spencer, former catcher of the Philadelphia ball club, was held under $1,000 bail, charged with forcible entry into the restaurant of Joseph Davidson. Manager Dooin was present at the hearing and offered to pay all expenses for the damage caused by Spencer, but Davidson insisted upon justice. So Magistrate Emely had no other alternative but to commit Spencer to Moyamensing in default of bail.

SOUTHERN TRIP FOR BADGERS.

Faculty Council Ratifies Plan to Take Wisconsin Nine on Tour During Easter Recess.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 12.—[Special.]—A southern trip for the Wisconsin baseball team, including games scheduled with the University of Arkansas, Christian Brothers' college of St. Louis, the University of Missouri, and other southern colleges, was assured today when the faculty council passed favorably on the scheme. Signed contracts for the following games have been received by the Badger athletic department:

April 1-2-3, University of Arkansas at Fayetteville, Ark.; April 4, Christian Brothers' college at St. Louis, Mo.; April 6, University of Missouri at Columbia, Mo.

Tentative dates with Vanderbilt university and the University of Tennessee have been arranged for the remaining days of the Easter recess.

The "whitewashing" of Frank Youngman, the Badger athlete who owned up voluntarily to having played semi-professional baseball, was left in the hands of Director Ehler, who will give Youngman a hearing tomorrow.

FORM NEW BASEBALL LEAGUE

Columbian Body Organizes with Powers as President.

GUNTHER PARK A MEMBER.

Five Cities Give Locations of Parks at Meeting Held in St. Louis.

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 12.—[Special.]—John T. Powers was elected president and secretary of the Columbian Baseball league at its first regular meeting here this afternoon.

Besides President Powers and Otto Stifel, millionaire brewer and local Republican politician, who will be financially interested in the St. Louis club, those present were: W. A. Matthews, Indianapolis; William Urian, St. Louis; W. H. Pearce, Louisville; Willis Melville, Milwaukee; Matt Hinkle, Cleveland; J. C. Masker, Kansas City; and William Niesen, Chicago. John Hoosink of Detroit was unable to attend.

With the exception of St. Louis and Milwaukee, parks have been secured in all other cities of the league. It was said grounds had been purchased in Milwaukee today. There was a well defined rumor that the St. Louis team would play its games on the St. Louis university campus.

List of Parks Secured.

Each magnate present was primed with necessary papers and leases to show he had actually secured a ball field. The list follows: Indianapolis, Riverside Beach park; Chicago, Gunther park; Cleveland, Luna park; Detroit, Mack park; Kansas City, Gordon-Kopple park.

President Powers will open an office in Chicago at once. The single umpire system was adopted.

The new league claims that checks have been put up by the financial backers of the clubs in each city. It is announced that the Columbian league will not try to steal players or cause any trouble with any other league club. Nothing definite will be announced about playing dates for about two weeks.

Mr. Stifel said after the meeting: "I have agreed to give the Columbian Baseball league my financialsupport. I have one idea about the makeup of the St. Louis club, which is that at least five of its players should reside in this city."

Toledo Declines Club.

Toledo, O., Feb. 12.—Declaring that a league club in opposition to the American association would not pay here, William Covert today wrote President John T. Powers of the proposed Columbian league that he would not handle a franchise. Powers wanted to put in a team here with Covert at its head.

GRAHAM IN TRADE FOR TWO QUAKERS

Cubs Exchange Veteran Backstop for Pitcher Ward and Catcher Cotter.

BROWN GETS CONTRACT.

Three Fingered Star Still Undecided Whether He Will Pitch or Enter Business.

BY HANDY ANDY.

Just before climbing into a flier bound for New York yesterday President Murphy of the Cubs announced the completion of a trade with the Philadelphia Nationals whereby two promising youngsters were added to the Cub roster in exchange for Peaches Graham, the catcher who came here from Boston last summer in the big eight cornered deal.

The players obtained from the Phillies are a catcher named Cotter and a pitcher named Ward. Neither has had wide experience, but both are believed to have the makings. Cotter is a young collegian who was an infielder on the Manhattan college team and played with York in the Tristate last summer. Being short of catchers, the York manager tried out Cotter with the mask on and found him a promising backstop. The Phillies obtained him from York and tried him out last fall. Manager Chance looked the youngster over and liked him.

Ward a Tall, Rangy Pitcher.

Ward is a right handed slabman of the tall, rangy variety, who was drafted by the Phillies from Brockton of the New England league last fall. He was recommended to Dooin by Pat Moran, from whose home town, Fitchburg, Mass., Ward originally hailed.

With a veteran like Moran to fall back on, it is not known what disposition Manager Dooin intends to make of Graham, who goes to the Phillies in this deal, but it settles the immediate future of Tom Needham because it is not likely Manager Chance would attempt to go through a season with only Archer for a seasoned backstop. The deal gives Chicago a young catcher in place of one who has reached his turning point, and also a young pitcher, thereby increasing the slab staff to seventeen if Mordecai Brown does not quit the game.

A contract has been sent to the famous three fingered star by the Cub boss and although Brown has not made up his mind what to do with it, this is the first step toward the desired object of inducing Mordecai to remain in the game.

Brownie Silent on Salary.

Whether or not the terms of the contract were satisfactory Brownie declined to say. The miner hurler maintains his position that his intention to quit the game was not based on a difference over salary nor designed as a holdout scheme. If the business proposition on which he has been working with Ald. Tearney pans out, Brownie maintains that the club will not be willing to pay him enough salary to tempt him to stay in the game, while if the scheme falls down he intends to continue pitching. The plans have been held up for several days by the sickness of the Three Eyes league president, who is confined to his residence by grip.

Meantime it is getting closer to reporting time every minute.

Two more Cub recruits got in line with signed contracts during the day. One document came from William Orr, the shortstopper obtained from the Salt Lake team of the Union association, and the other was sent in by William Harrington, the young pitcher who made a rep for himself with the Lynn club of the New England league in 1911. He was obtained by the Cubs in a roundabout deal with the Louisville club.

Herman Schaefer of the Washington club announced that he would leave early next week for New York, planning to sail for Europe on the following Thursday for the purpose of filling "a vaudeville engagement of forty-two weeks." It looks as if Schaefer had got next to Griffith's purpose to discard his veteran players and was trying to beat him to it. There may be a chance to keep Schaefer in this country if Griffith is willing to trade him to the White Sox.

Schlei Goes to Louisville.

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 12.—It was announced here today that Catcher George Schlei had been released to the Louisville American association by the Chicago Nationals.

CHANCE WILLING TO WAGER THAT BROWN WILL BE IN LINE.

Cubs' Manager Predicts That His Star Pitcher Will Be with the Team at the Training Camp.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 12.—[Special.]—"I think that Brown will be pitching for the Cubs this year, and I think so because he told me before he left here for Chicago that he would if things were right," said Frank Chance today. "There are several reasons why he might not and one of these is Al Tearney, the Chicago alderman. Al runs a saloon there and the Cubs practically made his place their headquarters. Brown has an idea of buying an interest in the place if he hasn't already done so.

"Now, if there is any talk of Brown not pitching for the Cubs Al probably inspired it, possibly unconsciously. Brown is doubtless holding out for more money like all ball players do, but I think he will sign. I do not want to roast Tearney, for he is a good man, but if any of his talk is holding Brown back from signing I'm surprised. He should be the last man in Chicago to do anything against the Cubs in any way.

"I don't think there will be any trouble with Brown when the time comes to play, and I'll bet a lot he will be in the training camp. You know his contract expired last season and he may be a little indifferent on that account. He's been getting big money from Chicago, more than any other pitcher in either league, but he is worth it. He's a great pitcher and has finished more games than any other pitcher on the team."

RECORD GOLF BY W. E. CLOW

Onwentsia Player Sets Mark of 67 for Palm Beach Course.

HOLES OUT LONG APPROACH.

Chicagoan Leads in Qualifying Round for South Florida Title.

Palm Beach, Fla., Feb. 12.—[Special.]—Chicago golfers carried off all the honors in the qualification round of the South Florida golf championship which started this morning with a field of eighty players.

William E. Clow Jr. of Onwentsia not only captured the low score gold medal, but he also lowered the amateur and professional records for the course, which have stood since the full eighteen holes went in use. The record was held by eight players, including six of the best known professionals in the country, at 68. Clow scored a 67, holing out an approach from off the last green for this record. His card was as follows:

Out ....4 4 5 3 4 3 3 4 4—34
In ....2 4 5 2 4 5 4 4 3—33—67

The 33 for the homeward round is two strokes better than this half of the course has ever been played before, and is 6 strokes below bogey.

R. H. McElwee, Onwentsia, his partner, scored a 71 and was second best at this figure. Other low scores were: H. P. Scott Jr., Wilmington, 73; H. P. Farrington, Woodland, 74; Walter J. Travis, Garden City, 75; J. R. Hyde, South Shore, 76; Dr. E. W. S. Harban, Washington, 78; C. H. Gerst, Whitemarsh Valley, 79; Walter Fairbanks, Denver, 80.

Other Chicago golfers to qualify for the four and eights and their scores were: Louis Washington, Midlothian, 85; L. M. Stumer, Ravisloe, 86; H. K. Bolton, Onwentsia, 89; M. M. Townley, Glen View, 93; J. A. Rankin, Chicago, 95; R. J. Cahn, Chicago, 96; R. M. Fair, Midlothian, 100.

GOLF BALLS TO BE CHEAPER.

Spheres That Cost 65 Cents Reduced to "Four Bits"—Higher Grades Unchanged.

The price of one highball is to be lopped off the cheaper grades of golf balls. Pills that last year cost 65 cents wil this year be procurable at 50 cents, while remades can be had at 35 cents.

There is, however, no sign of reduction in the high grade spheres and those who religiously affect those of top price markings still will have to fork up the regulation "six bits."

Just where the reduction edict came from is not ascertainable, but even this little midwinter offering will be welcome. The output of the "bounding billies" is controlled by three firms in this country. While ostensibly they have no working agreement, the market, to use the Wall street vernacular, always is firm at 75 cents. "You pays your money and you have no choice," say the victims.

WANT AUTO ROAD LINKING CHICAGO AND MILWAUKEE.

Motorists in Brewery City Hope to Meet Sheridan Road Extension at State Line During Next Summer.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 12.—[Special.]—The Chicago-Milwaukee Road association, which is campaigning for an automobile road from Milwaukee to Chicago, has been cheered by word from Chicago that the Lincoln Park association will develop the Sheridan road drive to the state line and at the Milwaukee end of the line the campaigners are working to complete the Wisconsin road to the state line before May 1. Sheridan road was to be used for the Illinois end of the project and the Lincoln park approval will simplify the work greatly. Chicago men interested will be here on Thursday for a conference concerning the way to complete the unfinished link in the road, so that it can be used next summer

DARING FLIGHT BY COFFYN.

Aviator Carries Moving Picture Machine in Fifteen Mile Journey Over New York City.

New York, Feb. 12.—Aviator Frank Coffyn, who last week was the first to demonstrate the success of the hydroaeroplane here, made a more daring flight over the harbor today. Coffyn was accompanied by Adrian Duff, who obtained the first moving pictures taken from an aeroplane in full flight here.

Coffyn and Duff started from the water near the Battery at 2:30 o'clock and after skimming the water for 300 yards rose in a circular course about the Statue of Liberty.

From there the flight was made across the upper bay over the funnels of incoming steamers and around the shores of Staten island, returning to the statue. The landing was made easily within a few yards of the starting point after covering a distance estimated at fifteen miles in [illegible] minutes.

M'FARLAND TAKES FINAL TRAINING

Packey on Edge for Ten Round Bout with Murphy Tomorrow Night.

BETTING HOLDS AT 10 TO 7

BY WALTER H. ECKERSALL.

Packey McFarland and Eddie Murphy, who will mix for ten rounds at South Bend, Ind., tomorrow night, put in their last day of hard training yesterday. The boxers did everything in the line of final touches that any athlete does on the eve of an important event. Both men expressed satisfaction with their condition and prospects of winning the popular decision.

Looking drawn, but otherwise appearing to be in great shape, McFarland went through his stunts at O'Connell's for the edification of a large number of his stockyards friends, who are wagering 10 to 7 that he will be regarded as the winner. Packey pulled the weights, skipped the rope, punched the bag, and did about fifteen minutes of shadow boxing. The south sider realizes that Murphy is a clever boxer. In order to be in condition Packey has already done a lot of work in New York.

Although his left eye is discolored and slightly swollen, Packey does not think it will handicap him in tomorrow night's contest. McFarland claims he intentionally took the blow from "Kid" Burns, in the hope of responding with a knockout punch. Packey characterizes Burns as one of the toughest fighters he ever met, one who should make a reputation in the lightweight ranks.

McFarland and his manager, Emil Thiry, go to South Bend tonight to be on hand for the weighing in at 3 o'clock. Packey claims he is well under the weight limit, 136 pounds. Thiry, Johnny McFarland, Willie Ritchie, Lee Mahoney, and Charley White will be in Packey's corner.

Murphy completed his work at the Black Oaks club. He did the usual amount of road and gymnasium work, and then boxed six rounds with some of the boxers who frequent the gymnasium. The westerner and his manager, Mickey McBride, will leave for South Bend some time today.

Two special trains will leave for South Bend tomorrow night, the first at 6 o'clock and the second section as soon as it is filled. Another supply of tickets was received from South Bend yesterday. Trains will return immediately after the contest.

George "Knockout" Brown, who is matched to meet Hugo Kelly at Kenosha in a ten round affair on Feb. 21, yesterday started on the final lap of his training. The Greek claims he will stop Kelly and says he is betting his own money on the result. Brown's argument is that he is younger than the Italian, has been doing more fighting recently, and can hit harder. Punches to the body will be Brown's hope.

Kelly is working at Wicker Park hall. Unless beaten by Brown the Italian will claim the middleweight title. Kelly says he is not having much trouble in taking off weight and thinks he will be well under the stipulated notch, 158 pounds at 3 o'clock, on the day of the fight.

Emil Thiry, manager of Willie Ritchie, the coast fighter who has made such an impression in the east, yesterday said he had not heard anything from Ritchie in regard to the reported split between himself and the fighter. Thiry does not believe Ritchie has broken relations.

Jack White, Jack Herrick, and Manager Fred Moore left for the coast yesterday, where White is matched to meet Joe Rivers over the twenty round route on March 17. White is in great shape and confident of taking the measure of the Mexican. White will attend the Attel-Kilbane contest at Los Angeles on Feb. 22.

Chick Larson, the Grand Crossing lightweight, will leave for Windsor today to meet Paul Sikora in a ten round contest tomorrow night.

Tommy Gary, Joe Ketchel, and Bill O'Connell, who were arrested a short time ago for allowing boxing contests at the State street gymnasium, will get a hearing before a jury tomorrow.

Mack Rex of St. John's, Canada, who claims to be a [illegible] pound champion of the dominion, is here looking for trouble according to an announcement by his manager Art Bretz. Rex is training with Vincent Ketchel. Bretz is particularly anxious to match Rex with "Special Delivery" Hirsch.

RITCHIE CLINGS TO MANAGER.

California Lightweight Returns to Second Packey McFarland and Denies Friction with Thiry.

Just at the time when "hot" stories were coming out of Philadelphia that Willie Ritchie, the California lightweight, and his manager, Emil Thiry, who also looks after the affairs of Packey McFarland, had parted company, Ritchie popped in Chicago last night and wasted no time in denying the rumor. He said there wasn't a bit of truth in the report.

"When Thiry and I break, Thiry will be the man to announce it," said Ritchie. "The news won't come from me. Any talk of McFarland being jealous of my success is foolish. Why, when I saw Packey after I substituted for him and beat 'Young' Erne he congratulated me more heartily than any one else."

The Californian will second Packey in his fight against Eddie Murphy at South Bend tomorrow night.

A big crowd was present for the first wrestling bouts in Kenosha in years.

LANGFORD WINS ON POINTS

Defeats James Barry of Chicago in Bout at Sydney.

MATCH GOES TWENTY ROUNDS

Letter from Local Fighter Tells of Outlook in Australia.

Sydney, Australia, Feb. 12.—Sam Langford, the heavyweight American pugilist and heavyweight champion of England, today defeated James Barry, the Chicago fighter, on points in a match over the twenty round route. The fight took place in the Stadium in the presence of a huge crowd.

In a letter received yesterday Barry says the fight game is booming in the Antipodes. He says: "I am hard at work and am going in my best condition. Have a good chance to make good here and if hard work is going to accomplish anything I am going to be successful. Saw McVey and Langford box to a $35,000 house on Dec. 26, so you can see the financial part looks good. Think I will like my stay here, as Sydney is a pretty city of nearly 800,000 people, and although we find them a little old fashioned and behind our times, they are courteous and hospitable. Right in the middle of summer here and the weather is simply great."

CARL MORRIS PROVES TOO STRONG FOR JIM STEWART.

Oklahoma Giant Has Better of Every Session in a Ten Round Bout with Brooklyn Heavyweight.

New York, Feb. 12.—Carl Morris, the Oklahoma giant, had the better of every round in a ten round bout with Jim Stewart, the Brooklyn heavyweight, at the Carlyle Athletic club in Brooklyn tonight. Although Stewart had been hailed as an even match for Morris, he lasted out the ten rounds only by holding on and running away.

Morris did about all the fighting, chasing Stewart about the ring and cornering him in almost every round, when he placed a few stiff punches. It seemed the general opinion that Stewart would have been knocked out had he stood up and fought.

Morris was cool and steady at all stages and showed greater accuracy than usual. In the sixth round he cut open Stewart's lips with a hard punch. Morris, weighing in at 230 pounds, had twenty-eight pounds the better of the Brooklyn man.

New Yorker Gets Popular Decision in Six Round Bout with Billy Galley at Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 12.—[Special.]—"Knockout" Brown won over Billy Galley tonight at the American A. C. before a crowded houses. It was a battle in which there was little to choose between the men. Galley showed an excellent defense and covered up skillfully, but he had a lot of respect for the punching abilities of K. O. and toward the end of the sixth round was holding to save himself further punishment.

ROSENBERG WINS 440 YARD EVENT

Irish-American Runner Defeats Fast Quartet in Race at Brooklyn.

IRA DAVENPORT SECOND.

New York, Feb. 12.—[Special.]—Jim Rosenberger, the champion sprinter and quarter miler of the Irish-American Athletic club, won the suburban quarter, the feature event of the games of the Knights of St. Anthony, at the Forty-seventh Regiment armory, Brooklyn tonight. He defeated a quartet of the fastest quarter milers in the country in sensational style.

Ira Davenport of the University of Chicago finished second, with Harry Gissing a close third. "Rosey" traveled the distance in :51. It was Rosenberger's second victory for this trophy and the ten points it netted him gives him permanent possession of the $500 trophy.

Five men made up the field. They were Rosenberger, Gissing, Davenport, Leroy Dorland, former captain of the Pastime A. C., and O. Degruithy of the New York A. C.

As they lined up "Rosey" drew the pole, with Gissing second, and Davenport on the outside. As they were waiting for the crack of the gun, Davenport "broke" in a false start and was penalized three yards. Rosenberger and the other contestants protested against his being put back, with the result that W. T. Jones, the referee, relented and allowed all to start from the same mark.

AMERICAN NET MEN RETURN; SAY AUSTRALIA TEAM IS BEST.

Larned, Wright, and McLoughlin Offer No Excuses for Defeat in Contests in Antipodes.

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 12.—Champion William A. Larned, Beals C. Wright, and Maurice E. McLoughlin, constituting the American tennis team which met defeat in its attempt to "lift" the Davis international cup, now held by the Australians, arrived from the Antipodes today on the liner Sierra.

"We were defeated by a better team—under the existing conditions," was Larned's reply as to how he accounted for the Americans' poor showing. The trio begged to be excused from making any comment that might be construed as a "losers' explanation."

American tourists returning on the Sierra, however, expressed the keenest disappointment over untoward circumstances which they declared had robbed the Americans of a reasonable hope of victory. Larned, they said, had been so crippled with rheumatism from the time of his arrival in New Zealand that he did not show more than a flash of his true form.

DEMAREST AFTER 18-2 TITLE

Chicago Billiardist Issues Challenge to Hoppe.

MAY PLAY IN NEW YORK.

Match Will Be First of Kind for Calvin and Willie.

BY J. G. DAVIS.

Calvin Demarest, the young Chicago billiardist, is after the 18-2 balkline championship and yesterday issued the regulation challenge to Willie Hoppe, depositing the necessary $250 with the donors of the trophy.

Under the rules governing the championship Hoppe must accept within ten days and must play within sixty. As the young eastern player has to defend his 18-1 title on March 14 against George Sutton of Chicago, it is not probable he will meet Demarest until after that date, and the chances are that Hoppe will name New York as the meeting place.

Contrary to general belief, Hoppe and Demarest never have met in a championship contest, their only match being a handicap played in Chicago four years ago, when the local player was in the amateur ranks.

After Demarest turned professional he competed in a championship tournament at New York in March, 1909, finishing last. The other contestants were Morningstar, Sutton, Slosson, Cutler, Curé, and Cline, the first named winning. In December of the same year Demarest won the championship, in a tournament held at New York, defeating Sutton and Cline in the playoff of a triple tie for first place. Others in the tournament were Slosson, Cassignol, and Cutler.

On Feb. 2, 1910, Harry Cline defeated Demarest, 1,500 to 1,377, for the title at Orchestra hall, Chicago. Cline defended the title against Cutler at St. Louis, and lost it to Hoppe on May 26, 1910. The New Yorker has held the championship since that time, defending it twice against George Sutton.

Demarest has been practicing steadily for two months in anticipation of challenging Hoppe. His challenge will head off one planned by George Sutton, who, notwithstanding his two recent defeats, was planning to issue a third defi inside of ten days.

Sutton, who returned from New York on Sunday, is more confident than ever he can defeat Hoppe, and intends to keep after the title. Sutton has few excuses to make for his defeat last Wednesday, except that he was sick for three days preceding the game. He is satisfied that he made a better fight than in the first game, and still insists Hoppe is not playing as well as formerly.

Sutton will start practice for his 18-1 match at once, and while he prefers 18-2 to 18-1, he believes he has as good a chance at one as at the other. The 18-1 match is to be played at the Hotel Astor.

HOTELS SEEK TENPIN NIGHT

Local Hostelries May Enter Teams in Bowling Tournament.

FIVE MANAGERS ARE IN LINE

Chicago Entries for Championship Meet Next Month Reach 44.

Efforts to have a Hotel night at the American bowling congress tournament, which will open March 2, were started yesterday when five of the leading hotels in town promised to enter clubs if enough others were secured to fill the sweep of eighteen alleys at Dexter park. The hotels already in line are the Palmer house, Great Northern, Lexington, New Southern, and Planters. The managers of those houses—W. C. Vierbuchen, John Roth, Charles McHugh, W. C. Keeley, and Frank Murray—are backing the scheme.

Chicago's entry went up to forty-four clubs yesterday, a trifle more than one-fifth of the total expected from the home city. Four more days remain before the list closes with Abe Langtry at the Great Northern, and the local promoters are working hard to stir up the belated entrants. Langtry will be at his office in the Great Northern every day until Friday to take entries through Secretary Flenner of the local company, who has been authorized to receive entries at his office.

Washington started a campaign last night for the next tournament, the 1913 fixture, by wiring Langtry an offer to hold the meet. Cleveland also is said to be lining up its forces for a contest for the tournament, but it looks as though the national capital will have a strong call on the local players.

"Hank" Poggensee set a new record for the West Division league last night by averaging 289 flat for his own club against the Voss club, his games being enough to win three games for the Poggensees. The team averaged 976 2-3. Bingos retained their hold on second place in the Windy City league by winning their middle game by a lone pin, their series with the Jiruskas going their way all three times. Stehno led the Bingos with 206 2-3.

Birk Bros. also picked up three games in the Windy City, but they had easy sledding, as the El Rectors were beaten badly in every game but the first, when they put up 903. Krizek averaged 206 and Danek got 202 1-3 for the winners.

Oswold Carmichael, one of the stars of the Bankers' league, went fast for the Northern Trusts, posting 269 in his opening game, and averaging 218. Russell anchored the club with 209, and the team averaged 912 2-3, winning three games from the Fort Dearborns.

BUSINESS, COMMERCIAL AND FINANCIAL NEWS

LIVERPOOL WHEAT PRICES DECLINE

Domestic Grain Exchanges Are Closed; English Cables Come 1@1⅛d Lower.

WINNIPEG MARKET WEAK

Corn Traders Expect Liberal Receipts and Also a Heavy Consumption.

With domestic grain markets all closed yesterday there were few news developments of interest to the few traders who were on the curb except the Liverpool quotations. The English market closed 1@1⅛d lower for wheat and ⅛d up for corn. The decline abroad was supposed to have been due to the larger Argentine shipments expected, and the generally weak tone on this side Saturday.

Weather conditions continue favorable as a rule and a continued liberal run of all grains is expected. Curb gossip was to the effect that the markets acted speculatively tired, and that they needed new and radical changes in the situation to inspire any big price movement in either direction. Some of the local traders are pronounced bears on the wheat market, but the local conditions are keeping them from selling freely.

Bulls Own Cash Wheat.

The bulls are credited with not only controlling the great bulk of the cash wheat here, but are supposed to have enough May wheat bought to cause shorts trouble later on when it comes time to deliver the actual wheat.

With the chief holder of May the owner of a substantial portion of the cash wheat here, and the latter unhedged as supposed, the position of the short might prove as disastrous as it did last May. Sentiment is by no means as bullish as it was. The continued big receipts have caused a switch to the bear side on the part of several prominent traders. Traders of this stamp are now taking the position that they will have to be shown before they will take any stock in the predictions of small supplies back on the farm. So many predictions in regard to the northwest situation have gone wrong that the old cry of "wolf" has ceased to be effective.

The government is believed to have been far out of the way in its estimate of the northwest spring wheat crop. Traders are now disposed to wait and see what percentage of the crop the government estimates to be back on the farms as of March 1.

Big Corn Receipts Expected.

With no unfavorable weather condition it is expected there will be a continued liberal movement of corn to this market for several weeks, as country advices indicate there is a large quantity of corn in country houses awaiting shipment. With the enormous primary movement the last few weeks, however, there has been no great accumulation of corn, and this fact encourages the bulls. In point of fact the accumulation has been much smaller from larger receipts this year than it was from a smaller movement to primary centers for the same time a year ago.

Cash Demand Less Urgent.

Corn men are keeping close tab on the cash situation in the southwest. The comparatively high prices that prevailed at St. Louis, Omaha, and Kansas City until the last week or so were the basis for much of the bullish sentiment in corn.

While there have been signs that the southwestern demand was less urgent, all reports have not been to this effect, and some well posted and conservative southwestern grain men say the buying will continue, as Texas and Oklahoma, as well as parts of Missouri and southern Kansas, need great quantities of corn.

Winnipeg wheat prices were ⅝c lower for the day yesterday. The weakness in the Canadian market was due to the lower cables and continued liberal receipts. Canadian reports continue to give sensational accounts of the traffic situation in the west, and it is feared much of the poor quality wheat will never be marketed on account of the inability of the railroads to carry the grain.

IN FOREIGN STOCK MARKETS.

LONDON, Feb. 12.—Money was firm, but discount rates were easy today.

The Bank of England secured the $3,500,000 new gold offered in the open market.

With New York closed and the settlement in the mining section commenced, the stock market today was dull and featureless. Industrial and rubber shares were firm, but Mexican rails closed weak.

American securities opened a fraction higher, but despite the good New York bank statement and the reports of the unfilled orders of the United States Steel corporation, the market lacked support and prices eased off and closed from ⅛ higher to ¼ lower than Saturday's New York closing.

$262,500 LEASE IN THE LOOP

Deal Closed on Property at Fifth Avenue and Jackson Blvd.

TEN ACRE TRACT SOLD.

Land at Forty-eighth Avenue and Jackson Boulevard Brings $30,000.

In one of the largest leases made in the wholesale district in several years George A. McKinlock has leased to Ederheimer, Stein & Co. the ten-story and basement fireproof building at the southwest corner of Fifth avenue and Jackson boulevard, with a frontage of 87½ feet on the former and 153 feet on the latter street.

The lease runs for a term of five years at an aggregate rent of $262,500, or $52,500 a year. It is interesting to note in this connection that the rent for the five-year term now expiring was $215,000, making the new lease on the basis of an increase of over 22 per cent. The lease was negotiated by Rounds & Wetten, who sold this property to Mr. McKinlock three years ago for $750,000.

Ten Acre Tract Sold.

An interesting west side acre deal has been closed in the sale by the Northern Trust company, trustee, of a tract of ten acres at the southeast corner of Jackson boulevard and South Forty-eighth avenue, to William Sager for $30,000. Mr. Sager plans to subdivide the tract at once and improve with apartment building, for which there is an active demand as the result of the successful development of the ten acres known as Congress first addition to Chicago, which lies directly south of the property just acquired.

The ten acres, except the Forty-eighth avenue frontage, is the last of a thirty acre tract purchased from Charles L. Willoughby in 1898 by a syndicate of which the Northern Trust company is trustee. Ten acres located along the tracks of the Chicago and Western Indiana road were sold to Winslow Bros., which they improved with a large manufacturing plant. Walter H. Wilson & Co. have had charge of the property.

FRISCO IN STEAMSHIP DEAL; SEEKS NEW ORLEANS WHARFS

President Winchell Negotiating Traffic Alliance to Get Atlantic Coast Trade —May Ally with Cunard Line.

Information from New Orleans states that B. L. Winchell, president of the 'Frisco railroad, has been in that city negotiating for 1,600 feet of wharf space along the city water front. It is surmised that this is the first step toward the establishment of a traffic alliance with an independent steamship company to operate between New Orleans and New York and Boston in competition with the Southern Pacific Morgan line of steamers. British capital, it is said, will finance the proposition, the interests being the same as control the Cunard line.

A meeting will be held in this city on Friday by the committee representing eastern railroads that have been planning for some time to institute suits to test the 2 cent passenger fare laws in the states of Ohio and Indiana.

George H. Kummer of Mount Vernon, Ill., has been promoted from division freight agent of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railway to the office of general agent of the freight department, with offices in Chicago. He is succeeded by L. G. Lucia of Danville, Ill.

J. J. HILL TELLS OF BENEVOLENCE

Declares He Gave Property Worth More than $4,000,000 to His Associates.

JUST A LITTLE PRESENT.

Stockholders of the Great Northern Railroad Benefit by His Generosity.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 12.—James J. Hill, chairman of the board of the Great Northern railroad, told the Stanley steel trust investigating committee today a story of himself in the rôle of a philanthropist to the stockholders of the railway company.

Mr. Hill said he had bought properties for more than $4,000,000, turned them over for that amount to the Lake Superior company, limited, as trustees for the railroad stockholders, and presented the stockholders with pro rata certificates for the increased value of the property, which accumulated rapidly and amounted to millions.

He was questioned at length regarding the lease of these ore lands to the United States Steel corporation for development—a lease which the corporation recently decided to cancel, on Jan. 1, 1915. In this land there are estimated to be about 500,000,000 tons of ore, which the steel corporation values at $1 a ton.

"I wouldn't take $1 a ton for the ore," said Mr. Hill.

The ore freight rate from the Lake Superior region to the Pittsburgh district, which the United States Steel corporation recently reduced to 80 cents a ton, Mr. Hill declared to be the cheapest in the country.

Predicts Lower Freight Rate.

"And it will be still lower," said he. "The next rate will be 60 cents."

"Why did they cut the rate?" he was asked.

"I think the Steel corporation just got scared to death," he replied.

"But you get your royalty just the same?" asked Mr. Young, "and when the lease runs out you've got the ore."

"Yes," Mr. Hill replied. "What difference does it make? I'll have the ore. It doesn't go out of fashion and the fire risk is low."

Representative Gardner asked the witness why he had turned over the properties to the Lake Superior company for the benefit of stockholders.

"The trustee company paid me what I paid for the property, a little over $4,000,000, with 5 per cent interest," said Mr. Hill. "Those properties immediately took on considerable additional value and could make money for the stockholders. There was nothing to conceal about it. Wherever I saw I could make money for the stockholders that way I did it."

Might Have Given to Poor.

"Did the stockholders of the Great Northern railway pay anything to the Lake Superior company?" asked Mr. Gardner.

"No; their interests were a gift to them. I got back all I had paid and the stockholders of the railroad got the benefit of the additional value. I was in a measure dealing with myself. I bought the property to get control of the transportation of the ore in the Lake Superior region. Subsequent developments showed the property was worth vastly more than $4,000,000.

"I bought the properties as an individual," Mr. Hill continued, "because as a railroad company I do not think the Great Northern would have the legal right to own and operate mines."

"But you, as president, could own and operate mines and distribute the stock to the railroad stockholders?" asked Chairman Stanley.

"Yes, or give it to the poor," said Mr. Hill.

CHICAGO MAN ON TEA BOARD.

Secretary MacVeagh Names Experts of Jobbing Houses Instead of Importers for New Body.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 12.—[Special.]—Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh today appointed the tea board for the present calendar year, consisting of the following members: R. C. Morrison of Chicago, C. H. Pegg of Toledo, H. Perry of New York, C. B. Platt of San Francisco, George S. Norton of Boston, Alexander M. Scott of Pittsburgh, and George F. Mitchell of Washington, D. C.

The personnel of the board is entirely new. None of the members of the tea board of last year was renamed because of complaints against their work and also because the New York importers charged that several members engaged in a speculation in adulterated and colored Chinese teas. The new board will hold a meeting probably in New York within the next few weeks.

Secretary MacVeagh departed from the former policy of the department in his appointments. The members are tea experts of jobbing houses instead of importers. In addition, the federal government is represented on the board by George F. Mitchell, who is a tea expert of the department of agriculture. The government was not represented on the former board.

BUYERS RULE POTATO MARKET

Mild Weather Leads Dealers to Press Offerings on Sale.

SHIPPERS BOOST CHICKENS.

Other Poultry Class on Firm Basis; Butter and Eggs Steady.

Less frigid weather at Chicago yesterday had a depressing influence on the market for potatoes and offerings were pressed on sale at a decline of 2c a bu. Fresh receipts were only 98 cars, but there were many cars held over from last week, when low temperatures interrupted business, and the pressure to lighten the supply on sale was sufficiently urgent to give buyers the upper hand in the market.

Chickens continued to enjoy an exceptionally strong demand from eastern buyers and sales were made at an advance of ½c a pound. Receipts were moderate and the market closed on a firm basis at the upturn. Other descriptions of poultry were unchanged.

Receipts of butter were 7,016 tubs, and of eggs, 1,934 cases. These arrivals were about as had been expected and the market for both commodities held on a steady basis at Saturday's prices. The butter and egg board was closed in observance of Lincoln's birthday.

CONTEST JURISDICTION OF STATE RAILROAD COMMISSION

Changes in Coal Carload Rates by Illinois Central Opposed by Some Operators Who Get Hearing Today.

To contest the jurisdiction of the state railroad and warehouse commission in recent changes in coal car rates by the Illinois Central railroad, representatives of the railroad and Chicago coal concerns will attend a hearing at Springfield this morning.

"The complaint to the changes, consisting of advances and decreases which went into effect Feb. 9, was made by operators in different parts of the state whose names I do not know," said Henry M. Hagan, counsel for the Taylor Coal company.

"The state commission clearly has no jurisdiction. The appeal should have been made to the interstate commerce commission. However, it is our contention that the rate changes were right and just."

YARDS OVERFLOW WITH LIVE STOCK

ALL PRICES GO LOWER.

Brisk Demand Saves Hogs from Rout; Cattle and Sheep 10 to 15 Cents Off.

With weather conditions more propitious for the movement of stock from feed lots, receipts of live stock at Chicago yesterday were of proportions that remind dealers of old fashioned days, total postings being for 26,000 cattle, 56,000 hogs, and 35,000 sheep.

The cattle run was more than twice as large as that of a week ago and sales were made at a decline of 10@15c for the bulk of the steers. Hog receipts exceeded those of a week ago by more than 30,000 head, but the demand was exceptionally brisk and values held within 5c of Saturday's figures, with the close on a firm basis.

Sheep receipts of 35,000 head compared to a run of 30,000 a week ago, and business was transacted at steady to 10@15c lower prices, most of the decline being shown by lambs of mediocre quality.

Few finished, fat beeves were included in the total run, and best sales topped at $8.50, as contrasted to an extreme price of $9.00 last week. Hogs sold up to $6.35, and averaged at $6.20, against $6.24 Saturday. Best lambs reached $6.70, while yearlings topped at $5.60 and sheep made $4.50.

TO INVESTORS—
JUST A MINUTE—200% to you, perhaps, sounds ridiculous. Let us prove it. Three years ago we commenced business on an investment of $6,000. We now have $100,000 invested. We are increasing our capital stock to $150,000 for the purpose of greatly enlarging, in order to equal a similar concern now earning 200 per cent on a similar investment. We have every right to do the same. Have the proper organization and unlimited territory. This is an amusement enterprise, with only two others of the kind of any note in the United States. We are not asking you to pay any advance on the par value of the stock. You are getting the benefit of three years' profit, as well as a guaranteed success. For further information address D X 134, Tribune.

The Best $5 Value We Have Ever Offered in
